WILL CARRY NEW FLAG
The color guard of the Warren Area High School Dragon Band will carry a new flag when they march in the Fourth of July parade and also in a parade at Philadelphia over the weekend of the 13th of July. The official Warren Borough flag, made available through the auspices of the city fathers, will be at the head of the marching unit in both celebrations.

Preview Of Big Parade In Philadelphia

Last evening at 6:30 at the Warren Area High School, the color guard for the July Fourth parade tomorrow held its final rehearsal.

The color guard includes the Warren High School Band color guard, and members of Warren and Sheffield V.F.W. color guards.

The massed banners heading the Warren Jaycees July Fourth parade will offer a preview of the upcoming big parade in Philadelphia for the 1968 Pennsylvania State Veterans of Foreign Wars convention Friday evening, July 12, expected to be the largest VFW parade in Pennsylvania history.

Incoming State VFW Commander Eugene R. Manfrey of Warren, has arranged for the Warren High School Band and color guard to head this great parade of department members and drum and bugle corps.

The display of the Warren County "Three Flags" will publicize to all of Pennsylvania and visitors from throughout the nation the history and tourist attractions of this region.

Vince Merold, public relations director for the Warren County VFW, reports that they are in debt to the Pennsylvania Bank and Trust Company for lending the three flags for their color guard. These are the Fleur de Lis of France of the Bourbons, the British Union Jack, and the United States flag with the circle of stars of the original thirteen states, who ruled this region at different periods.

Campbell Ellsworth Appears Low Bidder on New School

Campbell Ellsworth Inc., 8 Pennsylvania Ave., W., submitted the apparent low bid for general construction work at the proposed Allegheny Valley Elementary School. The local concern's low base bid is $833,333.

Other low bids, opened at Tuesday night's meeting of the Warren County School District board of directors, were:

Trico Electric Co., 110 Pennsylvania Ave., W., $143,000, heating and ventilating contract; David N. Brown & Son, Bradford, Pa., $98,421, plumbing contract; and Keystone Electric, Erie, Pa., $104,380, electrical contract.

Low base bids, which do not include the various alternatives, totaled $1,179,114. The cost of the school . . . to be constructed near Clarendon . . . is being financed through the State Public School Building Authority.

Following the bid openings, the bids were referred to the architect for tabulation and review.

Fun-Filled Fourth of July Starts Off with Big Bang

On Thursday, the Fourth of July, daily routines will be interrupted for Warren area residents with an avalanche of activities, running the gamut from a gigantic parade to prizes for the lucky.

This year's festivities, described by the sponsoring Warren Jaycees as the biggest and best ever, will begin with a bang at 5:30 a.m. Thursday. A "bomb" will be exploded at Beatty Field to mark the beginning of a Jaycee work bee and a day of practically continuous activities.

Miss Warren County, Jane Hoshong, accompanied by her court, will be honored at the first of three breakfasts to be 179 Register At Special Booth in P.O.

The special vote registration in the Warren post office lobby last Friday was termed highly successful by Postmaster Frank A. Fago. Aided by members of the Chamber of Commerce and the League of Women Voters in promoting the event, he commended all those who participated.

The final number of those who stopped by to register was 179, which is almost twice as many as those who have registered walk Festival in the past. Many others stopped to make sure their registration was up to date. Postmaster Fago said it was especially heartening to see the lines of young people waiting to register. A League spokesman said the majority of those who took part were between the ages of 21 and 35. The convenience of the post office location was praised.

The Warren County commissioners cooperated by assigning official registrars for the event, which was planned as a civic kickoff for the new "Register and Vote" six-cent stamp. Fago said his report from the commissioners' office showed that 95 of the new voters registered as members of the Republican party, 75 for the Democratic party and nine as Nonpartisan.

A steady request for demonstrations of the voting machine was filled by members of the League. The machine was loaned by the commissioners for this purpose.

British Judge Okays Extradition Of Ray to U.S.

LONDON (AP) — A British judge approved Tuesday the U.S. government's request for extradition of James Earl Ray to stand trial for the killing of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Ray's lawyers announced they will appeal the decision to Britain's High Court.

A 40-year-old fugitive from the Missouri State Penitentiary, Ray nodded unemotionally on learning he had lost his fight to convince Chief Magistrate Frank Milton that he should not be returned to the United States.

Then guards escorted him back to his maximum security cell at Wandsworth Prison to await the appeal, which must be filed within 15 days.

Milton said "there can be no doubt" that there is a prima-facie case against Ray in the murder of the American civil rights leader, felled by a rifle bullet at the Lorraine Motel Memphis, Tenn., April 4.

The prime evidence submitted in the dingy Bow Street Magistrate's Court was testimony of an FBI fingerprint expert, George Jacob Bonebrake, at a hearing last week that Ray's prints were found on a rifle, telescopic sight and binoculars that Memphis authorities consider were used by the killer.

Conviction on a murder charge in a Tennessee court could mean a sentence to death by electrocution.

Peering through half-spectacles over lawbooks piled on his judicial bench, Milton ruled on several major points.

He discussed and then dismissed a contention of Ray's court-appointed British attorney, Roger Frisby, that the slaying was a political crime, a crime for which a person cannot be returned under the U.S.-British extradition treaty.

This was announced Tuesday by the White House, which said the United States has apologized for the intrusion.

The four-engine jet was bound for a refueling stop in Japan when it was intercepted by Russian fighter planes Sunday and forced to land on a Soviet-held island in the Kuriles.

George Christian, White House press secretary, said shortly after noon that Moscow had given instructions that the plane be released along with the 229 Americans aboard. These included a crew of 17 in addition to 212 Vietnam-bound servicemen.

Christian said word that the Soviet action came from the U.S. ambassador in Moscow, Llewellyn E. Thompson.

He said he had no information

"To hold so would be to extend the meaning of this case too far," the magistrate said, though he agreed that King, who headed the politically active Southern Christian Leadership Conference, was a controversial figure.

The U.S. government had denied through its British lawyer, David Calcutt, that the killing was a political crime.

Soviet Orders Release Of U.S. Troop Plane

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet government, acting with unexpected promptness, has ordered the release of an American airliner that strayed into Soviet airspace while carrying 212 U.S. troops to Vietnam.

This was announced Tuesday by the White House, which said the United States has apologized for the intrusion.

The four-engine jet was bound for a refueling stop in Japan when it was intercepted by Russian fighter planes Sunday and forced to land on a Soviet-held island in the Kuriles.

George Christian, White House press secretary, said shortly after noon that Moscow had given instructions that the plane be released along with the 229 Americans aboard. These included a crew of 17 in addition to 212 Vietnam-bound servicemen.

Hijacked Plane Passengers Flown Back to States

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A mercy plane chartered by the U.S. State Department Tuesday returned 86 travelers from Cuba where they were stranded when a hijacked American jetliner was ordered to leave them behind.

The Northwest Orient Airlines 727 jet landed at Miami earlier in the day with only the seven-member crew aboard.

Capt. Richard Simonson, the pilot, said his Minneapolis-Miami flight with 87 passengers was deloured to Havana Monday evening by a Latin-looking man in his 30s who barged into the cockpit with a gun and ordered: "Go to Cuba! Go to Havana!"

When the other 86 travelers stepped from the ferry plane in Miami, one man shouted, "They treated us good, but it was all propaganda."

Simonson said the Cuban Ministry of Aviation ordered him to leave Havana without his passengers. A ministry official claimed a takeoff on Havana's 10,000-foot runway would not be safe with the passenger load.

The pilot said he argued with the officials, and then joined an official of the Swiss Embassy, which represents American interests in Cuba, in telling the passengers.

The jet was the second American airliner taken to Havana at gunpoint in 48 hours, and the seventh plane hijacked there in 1968.

Waves of B52s Bomb Fringe of North Vietnam

SAIGON (AP) — Waves of U.S. B52 bombers in the most massive saturation raids of the war dumped more than 2,000 tons of explosives on the southern fringe of North Vietnam within 36 hours ending Tuesday, the U.S. Command announced.

Prime targets in the raids around the demilitarized zone between the Vietnams were long-range artillery, bunkers and storage areas.

One principal aim was to knock out artillery with a range of 16 miles that has been harassing the nerve center for allied combat operations along the zone at Dong Ha and other forward bases.

Another was to hamper the infiltration and supply of North Vietnamese into South Vietnam. Marines reported for example, that two new enemy regiments have been identified as operating around Khe Sanh, the old combat base in the northwest.

In all, 75 of the high-flying, eight-engined bombers launched 15 strike missions, 11 of them just north of the zone where the enemy's big guns mainly are located. The other four hit the northern half of the demilitarized zone, a bee hive of enemy activity.

U.S. sources said the storage areas were in caves and bunkers, where North Vietnamese troops headed south pick up supplies.

Senator Clark, Schweiker Rap Each Other in Debate

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Democrat Joseph S. Clark, Jr., said Tuesday night Pennsylvania needs a U.S. Senator "with political guts" and should re-elect him to a third six-year term. But his Republican challenger, Richard S. Schweiker—in the first of their four scheduled television-radio debates — labeled Clark an apostle of the old politics still using the old answers.

He urged a voter shift to "a new generation of leadership, a new generation of commitment, a new generation of confidence."

The confrontation was carried live across the state from the Philadelphia studios of WFIL-TV on six television and 14 radio stations.

Clark and Schweiker both opened with four-minute prepared statements. Then, they answered questions from moderators Al McDowell and others tossed out by themselves.

Clark, speaking first, acknowledged that vast problems face the people of the country today and he wants another term to help solve them.

"I want to help bring peace to the world, and law and order and social justice to our worried nation," Clark said.

Schweiker said he, too, was concerned about the world, about the Vietnam war, about the status of the dwindling dollar, and about crime and violence.

But the Montgomery County congressman insisted: "None of the problems of the next six critical years will be solved by the old institutions, the old theories, the old words, the old answers, the old politics," — which he said Clark and the Democrats represented.

Schweiker has been in the U.S. House eight years, getting his first term when Clark was being elected to the Senate in 1956.

Clark, a wealthy Philadelphia lawyer, ended 68 years of Republican control in the state's biggest city when he was elected reform mayor in 1951.

Clark said since he has been in the Senate he has advocated Congressional reform while "my opponent has voted against Congressional reform whenever he had the chance."

The 68-year-old Democrat also said he had supported strong gun controls "at a time when it was to be for gun controls."

"My opponent has only now reversed his position of strong opposition to adequate gun legislation," declared Clark, "after the assassinations of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and Sen. Robert F. Kennedy."

Clark declared that the people "need vision and political courage" from its elected representatives and "not men who wait to see which way the wind is blowing before they decide which way to vote."

Schweiker said that the kind of leadership that Clark represents — and he kept referring to it as "the old politics" — had failed in the important areas of welfare, crime, and the draft.

In his prepared notes, Schweiker said: "The old politics" answer to poverty has been the handout, which doesn't produce progress. The answer must be a hand up, not a hand out, effective job training that teaches skills."

The 42-year-old congressman said that the answer to crime, instead of just more federal money, "must include a new crackdown on a major new source of the crime — narcotics."

Jacobson Appointed New High School Principal

JAMESTOWN — Charles L. Jacobson, a teacher in the Jamestown Public Schools for 15 years, was named the new principal of Jamestown High School Tuesday night.

In a unanimous vote, the Board of Education selected Jacobson to succeed Meade L. Anderson, who is retired after 33 years of public service.

A native of Pennsylvania, Jacobson has headed the JHS music department for the past several years. He will begin a three-year probationary period as principal on August 1.

The only reservation on the appointment of Jacobson was offered by Rev. George F. O'Pray, pastor, St. Luke's Episcopal Church, Rev. O'Pray said he had hoped the position could have been filled by someone with more administrative experience, but indicated he would go along with the appointment even though he had some serious doubts.

In other action, the board re-elected E. Milton Johnson as president of the board of education in a surprising split vote of four to two. The two votes were for Emory Olson, who was later voted vice president.

Dr. Bert S. Kline and Angelo Papa, who were elected to the board in May, were sworn in at Tuesday night's meeting.

Certificates of appreciation were presented to outgoing school board members, Frederick R. Weedon, who declined to seek re-election; William W. Boerst, who resigned; and Mrs. Katherine Ives, who was defeated in the May election. Johnson, 1954, indicated that he may not seek re-election to the board in 1969.

Newspaper Reports Underwater Collision

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — A Russian submarine and a U. S. nuclear attack sub collided under water several months ago with severe damage to the American vessel, the Norfolk Ledger-Star reported Tuesday.

The Navy has not announced such a mishap, but the paper in a story by its military writer, Jack Kestner, quoted a "usually reliable source" that it did occur.

The American sub, not identified, spent two months at Rota, Spain, repairing the damage, Kestner quoted his source as saying. There was no word on damage to the Russian.

Kestner said "the report lends credence to speculation that the missing nuclear attack submarine Scorpion might have tangled with one or more Russian subs on a classified mission assigned during her ill-fated transit from the Mediterranean to Norfolk."

CORE To Hold Political Rally

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Congress of Racial Equality CORE will hold a rally here Saturday night to discuss the relevancy of the presidential candidates to black people.

Wilfred T. Ussery, CORE national chairman of San Francisco, told a news conference Tuesday that black people should re-examine the "white controlled" two-party system. In an interview Monday he said CORE will discuss establishing "a black political party responsible to the black community and not a melting pot constituency."

Cyclist Injured

CORRY — Philip N. Szewczuk, RD 2, Corry, is in satisfactory condition at Corry Memorial Hospital with abrasions and lacerations received in a motorcycle accident early Tuesday morning.

State police said he was southbound on Route 61014 in Columbus township, east of Corry when his motorcycle tipped over and skidded across the highway at 2:45 a.m.

Lost Articles

Mrs. Howard Jordan of RD 1, Pittsfield, reported to Corry police Saturday that she had lost some items of clothing from the trunk of her car somewhere between her home and Corry on Route 6. Lost were a swim suit, pajamas, a head scarf and the medicine.

Missing Person

Spring Creek firemen, Corry Civil Defense police, and Corry police from the Corry substation were called out at midnight Sunday with the report of a missing person at the Hemlock Lake trailer park. Before authorities could launch a search, the missing man, Roman Pliznowski, 37, of Cleveland was found a short distance from his trailer.

Lost Articles

Mrs. Howard Jordan of RD 1, Pittsfield, reported to Corry police Saturday that she had lost some items of clothing from the trunk of her car somewhere between her home and Corry on Route 6. Lost were a swim suit, pajamas, a head scarf and the medicine.

Missing Person

Spring Creek firemen, Corry Civil Defense police, and Corry police from the Corry substation were called out at midnight Sunday with the report of a missing person at the Hemlock Lake trailer park. Before authorities could launch a search, the missing man, Roman Pliznowski, 37, of Cleveland was found a short distance from his trailer.

Westmoreland Warns Hanoi About Offensive

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. William C. Westmoreland in effect warned Hanoi Tuesday that any new enemy offensive in South Vietnam will result in "tremendous" losses.

The four-star general, arriving here to become the Army's 45th chief of staff, said there is currently a lull in the fighting, particularly around Saigon, because the latest enemy operations have been repelled.

Westmoreland said the enemy may stage what he called a "surprise" in an effort to capture world attention during the Paris peace talks.

Then he said: "Our troops are now disposed to make the price very high—and it will be high."

On his arrival late Tuesday at Andrews Air Force Base, he and Mrs. Westmoreland, went directly to the White House by helicopter where they were welcomed by the President and the First Lady.

Westmoreland saluted the President and shook hands with the First Lady. The general's blonde wife exchanged kisses with both the Johnsons.

The Johnsons and the Westmorelands went into the White House for coffee together. The Westmorelands were to be overnight guests.

Westmoreland told reporters that the enemy's spring offensive and the recent shelling of Saigon represented a switch in enemy strategy designed to create a public uprising against the government in Saigon.

"In all these seasons he has been defeated," Westmoreland said.

Scuba Diver

In Rescue Identified

The scuba diver credited with saving the life of James Foley of Butler, Pa. Monday morning has been identified as Richard D. Allen, of 139 Follett Run rd., Warren.

Allen, an employee of National Forge, according to his wife, makes a practice of daily dives and happened to be on the scene when four boys fishing in the Allegheny River below the dam, ventured out too far and were caught up in treacherous water.

The father of three of the boys, Gerald Foley and his brother James went to the rescue but had it not been for Allen, there was a great possibility the boys' uncle might have drowned.

Insurance Firms Pledge Continuing Fire Coverage

HARRISBURG (AP) — Insurance industry representatives have pledged to maintain fire insurance coverage in Pennsylvania's urban areas pending legislative and Congressional action, Insurance Commissioner David O. Maxwell disclosed Tuesday.

"They told me they would make a good faith effort to keep writing the business," Maxwell said following a two and a half hour meeting with representatives of 56 insurance companies.

Maxwell called the meeting because of what he termed "mounting evidence" that companies were refusing to write or renew protection for properties in the state's potential riot areas.

"The problem's an uneven one," Maxwell said. "Some

Funds for Navy F-111 Bomber Are Refused

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Armed Services Committee approved Tuesday the Defense Department's procurement authorization bill but refused to restore funds for the Navy version of the controversial F-111 fighter-bomber.

The committee cut $748 million from the Pentagon's $22 billion procurement request for the fiscal year which began Monday.

The Senate had inserted language in its version of the authorization bill prohibiting the department from spending any money in the new fiscal year on the F-111B.

The department was asking $425 million for eight production versions of the F-111B and 60 Phoenix missiles.

The House committee also refused to provide the $183.6 million requested for four Fast Deployment Logistic ships (FDL), "floating warehouses" to be loaded with military equipment and ready to go to any trouble spot, and $221 million for a still-undisputed destroyer.

4th Political Party Possible But Raises Big Problems

(C) N. Y. Times News Service WASHINGTON — A broad-based fourth political party, springing up after the August nominating conventions in time for the November election, is regarded by many politicians as a legal possibility but one with enormous practical problems.

While such a movement could undoubtedly influence the presidential vote in a number of states—and perhaps the course of the election by increasing the chances for it to go to the House of Representatives—the prospect of a new movement succeeding in enough states to win the election outright is considered exceedingly small.

One reason is the varying and sometimes ambiguous election law requirements in the 50 states, which would impose major problems for a new party or independent electors seeking to qualify for a place on the ballot.

Another is that time is working against any widespread organization of a fourth party movement. In some cases the deadline to qualify for the November general election ballot has passed. In a number of other states the deadline is early September—a matter of only a few days after the scheduled closing of the Democratic National Convention in Chicago on Aug. 29.

A check of state election laws indicates that a new political party or independent candidates or electors might still have time—only a few days in many cases—to qualify for the No-companies are writing the insurance, others are falling down. But they all agreed at the meeting to maintain the market for the time being."

At the same time, the commissioner said, the industry representatives pledged to back legislation before the General Assembly to establish a state-wide pool as relief for catastrophic losses due to riots.

Similar legislation is pending on a national level in Congress. If both plans are enacted, Maxwell said, the federal and state governments would guarantee financial assistance up to 97 per cent of the industry's losses because of civil insurrection.

The proposed state and national pools would be funded by assessments against fire insurance companies according to each company's volume of business.

The Shafer administration bill setting up the mandatory bill is on the House floor and Maxwell said he hoped it would pass both chambers by the end of next week.

"If the bill doesn't pass before the General Assembly recesses or adjourns for the summer," Maxwell said, "I can see only one of two alternatives."

"Either the companies agree to get into a voluntary pool arrangement to insure potentially high risk properties, or somebody else, meaning government, will have to write the insurance, similar to the state's workmen's compensation plan."

Cardinal Brennan Dies at 74

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Francis Cardinal Brennan, elevated to the College of Cardinals a year ago and later given the highest Vatican post ever held by an American, died Tuesday in a Philadelphia hospital. He was 74.

Misericordia Hospital, which the cardinal entered June 17 after flying here from Rome, did not disclose the cause of death. The death reduced the College of Cardinals to 108.

SALVAGE EQUIPMENT

The Men's Brotherhood of the First Church of God participated in a different program at their regular monthly meeting Tuesday night, by sifting through the debris from the fire which destroyed fellow member Robert Perry's shop last week. The efforts resulted in the salvage of numerous valuable tools and pieces of equipment. Instead of the usual dinner, the men finished off the evening with a wieners roast. Carl Swanson, left, and Paul Slagle, right, are among those who sifted.

HHH Proposes Multibillion $ Program to Help Cities

CLEVELAND (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey called Tuesday for a national commitment "to pay whatever is the cost not just of stopping the blight and saving, but of perfecting our cities."

He also filed at a suggestion he debate Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, noting that he had spoken along with the senator at four recent Democratic state conventions and that "I really have too much affection for him" to defeat him in a debate.

In a major urban affairs speech to the City Club, he proposed creation of a multi-billion-dollar national urban development bank, financed mainly through sale of bonds, to make federally guaranteed loans for inner city development.

Blue Cross Pays $21,580.83 Bill

CLEVELAND (AP) — Blue Cross of Northeast Ohio paid a $21,580.83 bill for Mike Kasperek, America's first adult heart transplant patient who died 14 days after surgery last January, Blue Cross reported Tuesday.

In its publication "Executive," Blue Cross said Kasperek, a retired steelworker living in California at the time, was enrolled in a retirement section under a group policy.

"Although this isn't the largest bill that Blue Cross of Northeast Ohio has paid," the article said, "Mr. Kasperek's case does point up two significant factors: the importance of having hospital protection in this day of rapidly rising hospital medical costs and the ability of Blue Cross to cover automatically the cost of hospital care in even the newest efforts of medical science."

of the presidential candidate's "Marshall Plan" for American cities.

He gave no money figure but said, "We are talking here about billions of dollars each year." Estimates of the amount needed to rehabilitate the nation's cities range from $150 billion to $300 billion over the next 5 to 10 years.

The vice president, who said he has visited more than 600 U.S. cities over the past three years as the administration's chief liaison man, also called for "a fundamental reorganization of all federal urban activities" to consolidate the many separate programs created in recent years.

Earlier, Humphrey visited Puerto Rican and Negro slums, accompanied by Negro Mayor Carl B. Stokes of Cleveland and Senatorial nominee John J. Gilligan, Ohio Democrat.

He drew a mixed reception, crowds ranging up to 500 persons at four stops and some booing, picketing and shouts of "Humphrey go home."

At a Spanish American job center, Ralph Meister, 21, a federal anti-poverty worker, led protests against cuts in social programs caused by the Vietnam War.

Grandinetti's Count Blessings, Call This Country 'Great'

JOHNSTOWN, Pa. (AP) — "My goodness, this country is great. There is no country like the United States."

These warm words of patriotism came from Italian-born Orsenzio Grandinetti who, at 83, has special reasons to cheer his adopted country and count his blessings.

Tuesday was the 60th wedding anniversary for Grandinetti and his wife, Mary, also 83.

Their eight children — scattered coast to coast — will cram into the Grandinetti home

Thursday for a combination reunion, wedding anniversary and Fourth of July celebration. There will be 18 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

In addition, President Johnson is to send the couple an American flag and a letter of congratulations.

Similar messages have been received from Gov. Shafer and Antonio Carloni, Italian ambassador to the United States.

Grandinetti arrived in Johnson in 1908 as a ragged immigrant boy of 18. He had $3.13 in his pocket.

He prospered, and today he's still operating a tailor shop he established in 1911. Four of his children went to college.

Comparing the United States with the Old Country, Grandinetti said:

"You get a better chance here. You get a good position. You get everything you need."

He added, "The people in Johnstown are good people, are good to me. I am friendly with the mayor."

"The people in America are friendly. No one is hungry in the United States."

Grandinetti recalled his first days in this country.

"There were people coming and going," he said. "There were whole trainloads of immigrant people."

He said that back in Italy a druggist, who had visited the United States, had told him there was money lying in the streets of America.

"He said there would be 25 cents or 30 cents lying here and there in the streets, and no one would bend over to pick it up."

"Well, I thought I would pick it up myself," he said. He laughed and said, "But when I come here I don't see no money in the streets."

Grandinetti returned to Italy and got married in 1908. He returned to Johnstown the following year, and a year later he was able to pay his wife's passage here. They received citizenship papers five years later.

The Grandinettis are a healthy lot.

His second oldest son, Harry, 52, said, "The entire family is still alive. With the exceptions of babies who died at birth or shortly thereafter, we are all alive. There has yet to be a blood relative funeral in the family."

The elder Grandinetti said, "I am a lucky man."

Quiet Warfare

If the move to stop elimination of all parking on Pennsylvania avenue, as passed on first reading by Warren Borough Council at its June meeting, is being accomplished it is being done so in a quiet manner.

The issue created one of the most heated council meetings in years and since that session nearly a month ago hardly a word has been uttered in the open public.

We venture to guess pressure is being applied in the background by concerned groups and individuals. This may be the way if the mission is accomplished. But this corner is more concerned that some amateurish ideas are sprouting up to offer council some alternatives to solving Warren's traffic situation without eliminating all the parking on the avenue.

Some of these proposed solutions, which we must admit have not been presented to us for our review, may be good. But we hold our stand of mid-June when we endorsed the idea that non-governmental professionals be engaged to study our needs of today and in the near future when the Warren by-pass and other new or improved area roads become a reality.

The answers such a group would arrive at obviously would not please everyone. But what progressive moves today do? If we as a community are to derive the things which will benefit the majority the most, someone is bound to have his toes stepped on.

More pressing at this moment, however, is the fact that next Monday council will again vote on no parking for Pennsylvania avenue in whole or in at least a greater degree than it is today.

We are sure the town fathers are as aware as any of us that there exists in Warren a serious parking situation. With this in mind, if nothing else, provisions should be first made to provide facilities to replace those they wish to take away. And not until such provisions are made should any further parking be eliminated on Pennsylvania avenue.

JAMES RESTON

Back to 19th Century Politics

NEW YORK — The present fight in the Senate over the confirmation of Abe Fortas as chief justice of the United States and Homer Thornberry as associate justice has plenty of precedents, but it revives the old and discredited practice of opposition on partisan political grounds.

This was quite common in the 19th Century. In the 105 years from 1789 through 1894, 20 of the 81 presidential appointees to the Supreme Court were rejected by the Senate, most of them for partisan reasons.

Of the 48 nominations to the Supreme Court since 1894, however, only one — President Hoover's nomination of John J. Parker of North Carolina — was rejected, and this not because of his party affiliation but because of charges that he was anti-Negro and anti-labor. Joseph P. Harris in "The Advice and Consent of the Senate" notes this modern trend. "The record of the Senate since 1894," he says, "indicates a decided trend away from earlier partisanship. . . the increasing role of the Supreme Court in passing upon social and economic measures has led to greater attention to the philosophy, record and attitudes of nominees on such issues, and far less concern than formerly to their party regularity. "Since 1900, only five nominations to the Supreme Court have faced serious opposition in the Senate: those of Brandeis (1916), Stone (1925), Hughes and Parker (1930), and Black (1937). In every case the opposition was due to the philosophy and supposed stand of the nominee on social and economic issues rather than to partisan considerations."

The main thrust of the opposition to Judges Fortas and Thornberry, however, is not philosophical but political. Some of the opponents may have their reservations about the liberal tendencies of the two nominees, but they are not saying the two men are unqualified or that their philosophies justify rejection.

They are simply saying that President Johnson, having announced his withdrawal from the presidential election race, should leave these appointments to his successor. The Republicans no doubt hope this would mean leaving the nominations to a Republican president, and the conservation Democrats may believe that some other President might nominate more conservative men.

If the opposition were based on ideological grounds primarily, that would be understandable. Even Felix Frankfurter, who was asked to deny that he was a Communist before he was confirmed on the court, conceded that opposition on ideological grounds was valid. "The meaning of 'due process,'" he wrote, "and the content of terms like 'liberty' are not revealed in the Constitution. It is the justices who make the meaning. They read into the neutral language of the constitution their own economic and social views. . . let us face the fact that five justices of the Supreme Court are molders of policy." Chief Justice Hughes put it more simply: "We are under a constitution but the Constitution is what the judges say it is."

The opponents of Fortas and Thornberry are not relying on this sound and direct line of attack but they are getting at it obliquely, through time and a technicality.

Lydon Johnson is no duck and he's not lame, either — legally or physically. He's the most carnivorous bird in Washington. Besides, ever since the President was limited by constitutional amendment to two terms, it could properly be said that "any" appointment he made to the court in his second term was a "lame duck" appointment.

The problem of time in this battle, however, is more serious. The judiciary committee of the Senate will not meet on the Fortas-Thornberry appointment until July 11. They could easily spend a week on serious discussion of the merits of the case, and dawdle on for another week if they chose. This would bring the case perilously close to the Aug. 2 date for ending the present session of Congress and make the appointments highly vulnerable to a Senate filibuster.

On most questions, the commands of a few senators have all the force of suggestions. But even on so serious a question as this, with the clock for an ally, a few determined senators could defy the will of the Senate majority.

The odds are still on confirmation. Sen. Everett M. Dirksen is going along with the President. It would be highly ironic if Sen. Richard Russell of Georgia, Sen. James Eastland of Mississippi and the other southern Democrats filibustered to keep Earl Warren from retiring, having longed so devoutly for his departure these many years. But this is an election year and strange things have been going on. After all that has happened in politics these last few months, the revival of 19th Century partisan antics almost seems natural.

JIM BISHOP

'My True Love'

The leaves on the trees had stiffened and the breeze was snapping them off last autumn when I sat with Maurice Chevalier talking love. He has a house outside Paris called La-Loque. It is gray stone, edging up close on the sidewalk, with spacious gardens in back. An oil portrait of his mother is on an easel in the foyer. He is pushing 80, but he has more romance in one cuticle than most men have in their bodies.

In man-to-man talk, he is candid. He sat in gray slacks and a tweed jacket and he said he never visits a city without remembering a flame who lives there. She may be a great-grandmother, but Maurice Chevalier makes a call, always holding a small bouquet of violets.

He lies gallantly, and tells her how kind time has been to her.

Recently, Johnny Carson put a detective to work hunting up old girlfriends in Nebraska. Some, I gathered, were not ecstatic about being tracked down, what with the old man slugging beer in the kitchen and demanding to know how far the Carson pony express traveled into her heart. Old romances never die. They just wince.

I tried this game when my wife wasn't looking. There was a girl on Arlington Avenue. She and I used to lean against the bells in the hall after the movies. Recently we met her on Jackson Avenue. The face looked like a miser's purse with the strings pulled. "Why, Lorraine?" she said. (Boyhood nickname.) She was pushing a baby carriage. "Yours?" I said. "Hah!" she said. "My daughter's. It's her fourth." A second look at her and I knew it was time for a fifth.

There was another one on the Jersey Shore. She was on a bar stool. I called her name happily. She gave me a pair of eyes laden with ice cubes. "This," she said to the giant sitting next to her, "is Jim Bishop. He used to go with my sister."

Another one lived up on Poplar Street so I stopped by. How well I knew that brownstone stoop. A lady answered the bell. I gave her the name of the girl. "What a memory you have!" she said. "That one married a doctor 20 years ago." I wasn't doing too well. There was a super-special who was skinny and wrote poetry. When she wasn't writing it she was reading it. I said hello to her and, to my chagrin, found that I had won her all over again.

She began to write anonymous letters to my wife telling things about my past that were too good to be true. We nicknamed her "Flypaper." The system worked well for Chevalier, but it didn't do a thing for my arches.

A few had developed the nasty habit of looking like momma, and I remembered momma. There was a plump one who used to invent kissing games for two, and she didn't care how many times she lost. I met guys in faraway places who, at the mention of her name, burst into tears.

There was a blonde in the eighth grade who had developed a couple of curves. I made a play for her, in a gentlemanly manner, and she flattened me in the schoolyard. There was another who paid no attention to me until I got married, then she followed me everywhere. I became afraid to throw a towel in the clothes hamper.

There was a redhead who could bug her eyes like Einstein. Whenever I visited her house, her parents were out and she proposed to get into something "more comfortable." What she found to be comfortable was nothing to speak of. I think she ordered her mother and father off the premises.

Another one, a straight-haired brunette, waited until I arrived and then did a half hour of isometric exercises in leotards. Under other circumstances, she wouldn't bend down to pick her mother's teeth off the floor. Still, she was supple. She could kick a man in the left eye without taking aim.

Another one, with long chestnut hair tied in a bun behind her head, was sentimental. She could cry at a baseball game. On the second date, she told me what kind of an apartment we were going to have when we got married. For years, I could tell her letters by the perfume on the envelopes.

"You really loved them all," I said to Chevalier in the foyer. I was looking at the portrait of his mother with a spotlight on it. "Ah, yes," he said. "Love makes all the senses intoxicated." I seemed to recall that the great lover never had a successful marriage, never had children.

Whiskey and Movies

WASHINGTON — Sen. Phil Hart, D-Mich., has been asked to step in where Sen. Tom Dodd's Juvenile Delinquency Committee failed to probe the effect of televised and movie crime on the crime rate of America.

Specifically, the American Council on Alcohol Problems has asked Sen. Hart to examine the attempt by the biggest whiskey distiller in the world, Seagram, founded on bootleg money, to take over one of the largest motion picture companies in the world, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. Hart's Senate Anti-Monopoly Committee would have jurisdiction.

Robert O'Brien, now president of M-G-M, former chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission, has one of the best records in the motion picture industry and this year will announce record profits. However, Edgar Bronfman, now head of Seagram, is demanding that he move over. At the last M-G-M board of directors meeting, Bronfman, who owns the largest slice of M-G-M stock, added three new directors: his brother-in-law, John Loeb, Jr.; John Wanamaker, head of CEMF, the Bronfman family's private investment firm; and Bernard M. Auer, vice president of Time magazine. This makes a total of six pro-Seagram directors on the M-G-M board, including Bronfman himself; Leon Kolber, a Seagram associate; and Edgar Baker, also a vice president of Time. Time magazine has been cooperating with Seagram in the battle to take over M-G-M.

Seagram is Time's second biggest advertiser; and Time, in turn, is M-G-M's second largest stockholder. Officially Time states: "Our investment in M-G-M is completely independent of anyone else's interest." However, Time representatives on the board have consistently supported Seagram.

What concerns juvenile delinquency experts about Seagram's attempts to dominate one of the largest motion picture firms is, first, the possibility of using the movies to put liquor in a favorable light; second, the bootlegging background of the Bronfman family.

Its money was made back in the days when fleets of ocean-going trawlers and fishing schooners laid off the coast of Canada and New Jersey loaded with cases of scotch instead of mackerel. The Bronfmans rose to power during some of the most crime-ridden days in the history of the United States, when truck convoys roared through Canada and New Jersey, when the police and Coast Guard sometimes bribed as much as $5,000 a day, when flouting the law was the order of the day.

"The special threat of a giant whiskey dis-tiller owning a controlling interest in a big motion picture firm is not hard to visualize," wrote the American Council on Alcohol Problems to Sen. Hart. "Movies are not only used for showing in theatres but are widely used on TV. The opportunity for Seagram to put liquor in a favorable light through its heavy ownership of M-G-M is wide open. When one considers the modern moral laxity of today's motion pictures it is possible to visualize how much more a moral breakdown may result from the control of movie production by the biggest whiskey distiller."

Some insight regarding the background of the Bronfman family can be gathered from Sen. Kefauver's crime hearings and the testimony of "Nigger" Rutkin, an ex-bootlegger. In reply to a question regarding the Bronfmans, Rutkin testified: "Well, the Bronfmans are four brothers from Montreal. They own little hotels up there. Now if you want to find out more about the hotels you can ask the Canadian Mounted Police."

Sen. Kefauver: "Are they like certain types of tourist camps down South?" "I don't know what they are but only from what I read of hotels the people sleep very fast. They rent them quite a few times during the night."

Sam Bronfman, when queried by this column regarding Rutkin's testimony, described it as "all nonsense."

Rutkin also testified that the Bronfmans "have been accused of bribing Canadian officials or a Canadian official and they have had big headlines in 1935 for defrauding the Canadian government of I think it was five or ten million dollars."

When queried by this column, Sam Bronfman also denied Rutkin's charge — he said that Rutkin had been suing him. "I can't help it if Rutkin sues or what he says," the elder Bronfman contended.

However, official records show that the Canadian government on Dec. 11, 1934, filed charges against the Bronfman brothers for defrauding the government out of $5 million of revenue by smuggling whiskey. The penalty was $10 million. The Canadian government charged that the Bronfmans shipped liquor from Canadian warehouses to St. Pierre and Miquelon, the French islands off the coast of Newfoundland, then smuggled it back into Canada without paying taxes. The Canadian Royal Mounted Police found huge quantities of liquor on the Gaspe coast and made over 100 arrests in one weekend.

The case was subsequently reported settled out of court. A claim by the U. S. Treasury against Seagram for smuggling whiskey into the United States was also settled by Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, May 15, 1936, by a payment by Seagram of $1,500,000.

This is part of the background of the big Canadian liquor company which now seeks to get control of one of the largest motion picture companies in the United States.

Do It Yourself Boom

This year, we American homeowners, are slated to spend more than $14 billion to repair, expand or remodel our homes. Of this amount, a staggering $4 billion will go for supplies and materials for our own do-it-yourself projects.

This boom was proceeding powerfully enough under the obvious forces: a way to save money on essential work around the house; a way to occupy an expanding amount of leisure time; a way to get the work done when others couldn't be found to do it.

But now it's being fueled by factors that you wouldn't guess so easily.

For instance, today's historically steep mortgage rates are forcing many homeowners to fix up or enlarge their existing houses because they can't finance a new home.

Our drastic and worsening shortage of carpenters, plumbers, electricians and others with building skills is compelling us to become do-it-yourselfers.

The average size of U. S. homes is growing relentlessly. Today's average home is a full 20 per cent bigger than the average home was in 1955.

Medicare is an unexpected spur. Many of the dollars which elderly citizens formerly saved or spent for medical emergencies are now being used for home improvements.

And making it simple for do-it-yourselfers is the expanding availability of convenient materials and supplies — ranging from "miracle" glues, roll-on paints, prefabricated building materials, prepacked wall-papers and "instant" lawns to do-it-yourself fix-it kits with easy instructions on how to do just about anything around the home.

Much as you may be aware of the trends, you probably underestimate the extent to which we are now fixing up and repairing our own homes. Here are approximate estimates provided by the Wickes Corp. of Saginaw, Mich., a leading supplier of building materials:

We now do over one-third of the painting inside and outside our homes;

Of every six U.S. homeowners, one does his own home plumbing jobs;

We do a full one-fifth of the roofing work on our homes and a full two-fifths of all flooring work.

We do the great majority of "odd" jobs around our homes.

And of course the husband is no longer by any means the family's sole do-it-yourselfer. According to one recent study, more than three out of four wives are now doing a wide range of home repairs themselves, including painting, patio repairs, unclogging water pipes, repairing fences, installing TV antennas, putting in insulation and masonry.

To top it off, the "limits" on the boom seem limitless.

We're moving into another marrying-child bearing — home buying and building boom. When the tight money squeeze lets up, housing starts will start to climb toward 2,000,000 or more units in the early 1970's. The steady migration of families from city to suburb to exurb also will mean a parallel increase in do-it-yourself activity.

The handy do-it-yourselfer was the admired odd ball as recently as a decade ago. Now he — and she — are commonplace. Soon, the non-do-it-yourselfer will be the odd ball and not an admired one. So, if you're not already one of us, get ready.

One For The Books

HARRISBURG — You probably never heard of George M. Dallas — or if you did, go to the head of the class.

No — ole George is not the lad who founded Dallas, Texas, or Dallas, Pennsylvania. In fact you've got to go back to around the mid-1800's to really ring George Dallas into the picture (a bit on the difficult side for most).

George Dallas has quite a distinction, in a round-about sort of way: he is the only Pennsylvanian to ever grace the Vice-Presidential chair in Washington (1846-49).

Big, lumbering, industrial, influential, politically-dominated Pennsylvania has only managed to produce one Vice-President!

That's certainly one for the books. (In fact, if it weren't for the fact that he happened to be from Philadelphia, it might be a splendid idea to erect some sort of monument in his belated behalf at the old Dallas homestead.)

So much for the Vice-Presidency; what about the Presidency?

Well, the Keystone State hasn't fared much better on this score either — big, lumbering, industrial, politically-dominated Pennsylvania.

On the presidential front there has been just one lone sport who can be classified as a native of Pennsylvania who ever made the grade.

That was James Buchanan who served as custodian of the White House rose garden from 1858 to 1861. His home is now well preserved in Lancaster County in a most fitting memorial to this lone Pennsylvanian. (He wasn't born in Lancaster County, by the way — but at Cove Gap in Franklin County near Mercersburg.)

What were the political faiths of Messrs. Buchanan and Dallas?

You've guessed it — both were Democrats!

To underscore the point: there has never been a native Pennsylvania Republican who has served as either President or Vice-President!

Note the phrase "native" Pennsylvanian. One other Pennsylvanian, if classified by "place of residence," has served in the exalted post.

His name: Dwight Eisenhower.

His official place of residence (current, that is): Gettysburg.

His political affiliation (it says here): Republican.

His birthplace: Denison (no relation) Texas.

How about the other big industrial states like Pennsylvania; have they fared much better? Well, the Keystone State's neighbor to the north — New York State — has suffered through the tenures of five natives serving in the White House, while slightly to the west, Ohio has produced six native-born Presidents.

What has happened in the Keystone State; why has the Presidential and Vice-Presidential record been so — beastly?

First of all, Pennsylvania historically has been a "politically strategic" state in its political machinations over the years, matched perhaps by only New York; it has been a background "manipulator" in the overall political realm rather than a producer of candidates.

There have been very few — almost none — really serious presidential contenders in the past from this state. Nearly all the past Governors (as with chief executives everywhere) have run the patsy and strategic "favorite son" track — but until former Governor William Warren Scranton moved into the picture four years ago there were none of contemporary note approaching the serious, full-blown category.

Most certainly many have "wanted" the post (as who wouldn't and what Governor anyone wouldn't?) — but from the serious candidate possibility standpoint, there have been none from Pennsylvania of remotely contemporary note with the exception of Mr. Scranton.

On the other hand, New York State may wind up this year with its sixth White House occupant!

Happenings Years Ago

1948 Two Warren district horses have been entered in the annual Valley Hunt Club horse show to be held in Bradford. Bob Spencer will ride a horse owned by Elmer Ploss in the western class while Harry Lewis will ride his own horse in the Hunter's class. Lewis' entry will also be ridden in the children's class by Jerry Aquist.

Truman has endorsement of Pennsylvania delegation to the Democratic National Convention.

1958 A hearing on the proposed four-mile modernization of Route 62 northward from the present three-lane highway through North Warren has been set for 10:30 a. m. in the small court room.

A 27-year-old Jamestown career sailor and another Navy man from Bradford were among 29 American military personnel seized by Cuban rebels seeking assurance the United States would not refuse or otherwise service Cuban government planes.

Pro Football Players Reject Latest Offers from Owners

CLEVELAND (AP) — National Football League players rejected results of negotiations with club owners in Detroit-Friday and Saturday, and league president Arthur B. Modell said Tuesday the rejection might be due to a misunderstanding.

Modell, owner of the Cleveland Browns, issued a statement on the negotiations which were held in closed sessions. The statement follows:

"We regret exceedingly that the players have rejected the results of the very fruitful negotiations we had in Detroit on Friday and Saturday. We think perhaps the players may not have fully understood our position."

"As a result of those negotiations all of the issues, with the exception of pensions, appear to be resolved. On pensions, the union insisted that we negotiate now in 1968 pension commitments to take effect in 1970."

"We said that it was impossible for us to negotiate for 1970 without information essential to a proper understanding of the pension in light of the NFL-AFL merger and in view of uncertainty regarding the future sources of revenue. We did offer, nevertheless, to increase the owners' guaranteed obligation by 25 per cent which will result in projected average increased benefits of 25 per cent for the years 1968 and 1969."

"We also agreed to undertake immediately a complete study of the pension problems and to negotiate on changes to take effect in 1970 as soon as the study was completed."

An authoritative source in Atlanta said about 97 per cent of the players contacted were not satisfied with the owners' offers.

And in Knoxville, Tenn., the News Sentinel said NFL players have voted 377-17 not to report to pre-season training camps.

"There figures to be a strike unless the NFL club owners and the players association come to an agreement this week," the newspaper said.

Among other things, the players are seeking $500 for each exhibition game, and a guaranteed minimum salary such as exists in baseball.

In Chicago, Dan Shulman, counsel for the players' association, said: "We have agreed to no comments in the press and we intend, at least for the present, to adhere to that."

TMO Tops New Process

Greg Hanks was the winning pitcher as the Times-Mirror and Observer trounced New Process, 17 to 4. Beckman was the losing pitcher. Extra base hits included a homer by McClement, triple by Mahan and double by Jones.

Neeleys over W-A

Neeleys of Grand Valley made its record 7-1, trimming Clarendon Western Auto, 7 to 6. Danny Hoaglund was the winning pitcher and Dave Belt the losing pitcher.

Gaughn's Now 10-0

Billy Cummings struck out 15 as Gaughn's Drugs squeezed by Speidel-Lesser, 2-1. Gaughn's is now 10-0. Hansen caught Cummings. The losing battery was Tom Dunn and Brad Smock. Jeff Gray doubled for the losers.

UCT Tromps Kiwanis

UCT won from Kiwanis, 16-7. George Abel, the winning pitcher, had a grand slam homer, a double and was four for five. Darryl Pierce, the loser, was three for four. Roger Madigan and Terry Bailor doubled for Kiwanis. For UCT, Fred Wood had two doubles, while Gary Vosler and Glen Esborn had one each.

Barrett's Win First

Barrett's Garage won their first game of the season last night as they downed Wilcox Bros.-Allen Line Service 11-6. Don Anderson shared the pitching victory with Jamie Nesmith while Dave Brown was tagged for the loss. John Olson was the only extra-base hit for either team as he snagged a double for Barrett's.

Miller-Baker Wins

Miller and Baker of Clarendon downed the Sheffield Sports Boosters last night 4-2. Larry Crossley hurled the win with relief help from Rodney Retterer. The loss was shared by Mike Barr and Andy Moore. Martin Jenkins clubbed a double for the win while Retterer proved to be the hard slugger by claiming a triple on a three-for-three record.

Sheffield WNB Now 6-1

Sheffield Warren National Bank now stands 6-1 after downing Clarendon Community Market-Coin Laundry 21-2 last night. Danny Newberg picked up the win while Dave Paul suffered the loss. Brian Moldovan led the victory with a grand slam while Dave Steffan clobbered a triple and homer and Dave Scallise bagged a round-tripper. Scott Duell also added to the win with a homerun. Newberg also added a double along with Moldovan and Duell. Paul gave the losers a triple as he hit three of the five hits the losers collected. A double play was made by C&M as first baseman Tony Gerarde picked up a grounder to tag first and then peg the ball to second baseman Shane Dunham for the two outs.

Rose Keeps Bantam Title

TOKYO (AP) — Dropped for a flash knockdown in the second round, world bantamweight champion Lionel Rose of Australia rallied to win a majority decision over Japan's Takao Sakurai in a 15-round title bout Tuesday night.

The 20-year-old aborigine chased the 26-year-old challenger through most of the fight to earn the edge.

American referee Nick Pope, 72-71, and Japanese judge Ko Toyama, 72-70, voted for Rose. Japanese judge Takeo Ugo, 72-72, called it a draw. The Associated Press scorecard had Rose in front 71-65.

It was Rose's first defense of the 118-pound division crown he won from Japan's Fighting Harada in the same Martial Arts Hall last Feb. 7. The champion weighed 118 to Sakurai's 117½.

Rose, unbeaten in the last 24 months, scored his 18th consecutive victory. His record is 30-2. Sakurai, winner of the Olympic bantamweight title in Tokyo in 1964, suffered his first professional defeat. He had won 22 and was ranked third among the contenders.

Lions Captured 10-3

The Tidoute Lions were captured last night by Youngsville Cabinet Shop 10-3. Timmy Sandberg picked up the win while E. Fike was tagged for the loss. Frank Hodges and Bob Carlett snagged doubles for the win while Lee Walters added a pair of triples and Sandberg claimed one three-bagger. G. Drukenbrod gave the Lions their only extra-base hit, a triple.

Ford Runnin' Fast

Clark's Ford was runnin' fast last night as they zipped past Lake's Service 20-1. Cyril Pad-den was the winning pitcher while Brian DeVore suffered the loss. Ray Helleker and Ron McClellan added to the win with doubles while Dave Graham slugged two triples and a double and Joel Edwards cracked three triples and a double. Alan Teconchuck gave Lake's a double.

Negroes Will Compete But Will Shun Olympic Win Stand and Parade

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A Negro newspaper man said Tuesday all black athletes who qualify will participate for the United States in the Mexico City Olympics—but will show their discontent by shunning the victory stand and possibly the opening ceremonies parade.

The newspaperman said the decision was made at last week-end's Olympic trials at Los Angeles, which he attended.

The newsman, who requested anonymity, said "I couldn't name one black athlete who will not go to the Olympics if he qualifies."

"But they decided there are other ways to demonstrate their disgust with their situation," he said.

The newsman said there is no chance that Lee Evans, Tommie Smith, John Carlos, Bob Beaman or Jim Hines—to name five Negro stars—would pass up the Olympics, although they have been outspoken in favor of some type of boycott action.

Pressed for specifics, he said they have decided not to appear on the victory stand, where the first three in each event receive their gold, silver or bronze medals.

What else? Very probably, he said, they will not march in the opening parade of athletes of all participating nations, and perhaps not in the closing parade, either.

Gibson Lauds Drysdale; Cites Big D's Record

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "It's so great a thing that possibly no one is ever going to break it," Bob Gibson spoke of Don Drysdale's shutout pitching record after the game in which the St. Louis Cardinals' ace right-hander missed a shot at one of the Dodger hurler's marks.

Drama in the confrontation between Gibson and Drysdale ended quickly before the capacity throng of 54,107 at Dodger Stadium Monday night.

With two out in the first inning, Len Gabrielson and Tom Haller singled to put Dodgers on first and third. Pitching to Ron Fairly, Gibson uncorked a wild one and Gabrielson scored.

Thus Gibson's streak ended at five straight shutout games and 48 2-3 innings, short of Drysdale's six and 58 2-3 set earlier this year.

Big D had erased records set in 1940 by Doc White of the Chicago White Sox, who had thrown five straight shutouts, and the 56 straight scoreless innings tossed by Walter "Big Train" Johnson of the Washington Senators in 1913.

Drysdale didn't have it against the Cardinals. The Dodger pitcher gave up single tallies in the second and sixth and three in the seventh before being relieved.

The Cardinals went on to the 5-1 victory.

Gibson didn't appear unhappy that his bid to surpass Drysdale's records had failed, explaining, "A wild fast ball and it was my fault. I have no excuses."

Blueberry Has Women's Golf

Isabel Vesio was winner in three categories during Blueberry Hill's Women's Golf Tuesday. In the first flight, she won low gross, low net and tournament. The day's play was odd holes.

Phyl Rieder won low gross and tournament in second flight play. Mrs. Rieder was tied with Ruth Dove for low net.

The third flight had three winners. They were: Jane Frits, low gross; Audie Benson, low net, and Myrtle Sternberg, tournament.

A late game and shortage of space in today's paper will hold up the Recreation softball story until Friday morning's paper. A complete roundup will be featured at that time.

KATHY CAN'T CAN IT
Kathy Whitworth, one of the very best of the lady golfers, gave it a good try but failed to sink her putt on the sixth hole at Pine Ridge Golf Course near Baltimore. Kathy's luck and skill pulled her through and she won the tourney, an open event.

Jenkins Stops Phillies

CHICAGO (AP) — Ferguson Jenkins survived a shaky start and a ninth-inning threat to beat Philadelphia Tuesday, driving in two runs with a double in a 5-3 victory for the Chicago Cubs.

Jenkins took a 5-1 lead to the ninth but a double by Johnny Callison, his third hit, and a home run by John Briggs narrowed the gap. Rick Joseph singled, but Jenkins got Mike Ryan, pinch-hitter Clay Dalrymple and Cookie Rojas to end it.

Doubles by Rojas and Callison produced a run in the first inning as Jenkins pitched his way out of a two-out bases-loaded situation by getting Joseph on a fly ball.

The Cubs picked up two unearned runs in the first, driven in by Ron Santo's double and Gene Oliver's single after Glenn Beckert was safe on an error by first baseman Briggs.

Chicago added another run in the third when Beckert doubled, took third on an infield out and scored on Randy Hundley's single.

Jenkins doubled home two runs in the eighth after Willie Smith doubled and Adolfo Phillips was purposely passed.

Bucs Win on Error

NEW YORK (AP) — Donn Clendenon scored on Bud Harrelson's ninth-inning error Tuesday night, giving Pittsburgh a 2-1 victory over the New York Mets.

Clendenon led off the inning with a single, moved to second on Bill Mazeroski's sacrifice, took third on a ground out, then came in when shortstop Harrelson bobbled Manny Mota's routine grounder.

American Amateurs Advance In Wimbledon Open Tennis

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — American amateurs Arthur Ashe and Clark Graebner advanced into the semifinals of Wimbledon's history-making open lawn tennis championship Tuesday and put up the best show for Uncle Sam since 1959.

Ashe and Graebner, the amateur heroes of a world championship matching every big name in tennis, face a couple of professionals in the semifinals.

Ashe will meet the top pro in the world, Australia's Rod Laver, and Graebner will play another Australian pro, Tony Roche.

Weather permitting, Wimbledon officials scheduled the men's semifinals and women's quarter-finals for Wednesday, the women's semifinals for Thursday, the men's final for Friday and the women's final for Saturday.

Ashe, seeded 13th from Richmond, Va., defeated Tom Okker, the Dutch amateur who was seeded 18th 7-9, 9-7, 9-7, 6-2 in the quarter-finals on another unbanked day at Wimbledon. The lithe Army lieutenant served 18 aces to Okker's three.

The unseeded Graebner from New York used his booming service to defeat Ray Moore of South Africa 6-2, 6-0, 9-7.

Laver, 29-year-old top seed here, had a five-set battle against Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif. The Aussie finally won 4-6, 6-3, 6-1, 4-6, 6-2.

And Roche, the 15th seed from Australia who knocked out second-seeded Ken Rosewall Monday defeated 10th-seeded Earl Buchholz of St. Louis, 3-6, 7-5, 6-4, 6-4. Buchholz was handicapped by a groin injury.

The women, meanwhile, reached the quarter-finals in a formal fashion. Seven of the eight seeds reached the round of eight, the lone exception being England's Virginia Wade, beaten earlier.

Mrs. Billie Jean King, the pro from Long Beach, Calif., seeking her third straight Wimbledon title beat Mrs. Fay Moore of Australia, 6-2, 6-4.

She was joined in the quarters by Nancy Richey of San Angelo, Tex.; Australians Mrs. Margaret Smith Court, Judy Tegart and Mrs. Lesley Turner Bowrey; Brazil's Maria Bueno, and pros Mrs. Ann Jones of England and Francoise Durr of France.

Miss Richey beat Kristy Pigeon of Danville, Calif., 7-5, 7-5. Mrs. Court downed Edda Buding of Germany, 6-2, 6-3. Miss Tegart topped Mrs. Shirley Bloomer Brasher of England, 6-2, 6-2. Mrs. Bowrey downed Mrs. Joyce Williams of Britain, 6-3, 6-1. Miss Bueno ousted pro Rosamary Casals of San Francisco, 5-7, 6-4, 6-3. Miss Durr beat Patti Hogan of La Jolla, Calif., 6-2, 6-2, and Mrs. Jones trounced Helen Gourlay of Australia, 6-3, 6-1.

Final Olympic Tryouts In High Altitudes

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A bulky squad of 193 track and field athletes has been invited to participate in high altitude training and tests at South Lake Tahoe, Calif., starting later this month.

Final tryouts for the men's squad will be held Sept. 9-17 at the 7,000-foot altitude similar to that of Mexico City, scene of the Olympics in October.

Up to 10 athletes per event were named Monday by the U.S. Olympic committee's track and field group. Official reason for such large fields was to insure sufficient athletes to conduct trials in the same manner

Katt Blanks Indians

CLEVELAND (AP) — Jim Kaat blanked Cleveland with a seven-hitter and Rich Reese and Jack Hernandez contributed doubles in a four-run fourth inning as the Minnesota Twins whipped the Indians 6-0 Tuesday night.

It was scoreless until Reese led off the fourth with a double to left center, Steve Hargan walked John Roseboro, Hernandez' two-base blow sent both runners home, and a single by Cesar Tovar scored Hernandez. Tovar came all the way around from first on a single to center by Jim Holt.

The "Firecracker 50," a 50-lap championship event, will highlight the Stateline Speedway 13-event racing program tonight. The race will be for 1965-68 new stock cars and is patterned after the "Firecracker 400," held in Daytona Beach, Fla.

The track will also present a fireworks display at intermission. Race time is 8:30 p.m.

Shriver Wins

At Wimbledon

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Sargent Shriver, U.S. Ambassador to France and brother-in-law of the late John and Robert Kennedy, won a tennis match at Wimbledon Tuesday.

Shriver and Bob Kelleher of Los Angeles, president of the U.S. Lawn Tennis Association, defeated Nigel Parquharson of South Africa and Otto Hauser of Argentina 6-2, 6-2 in the first round of Wimbledon's senior event, described as the veteran gentlemen's doubles.

Peace Try Fizzles As Track Feud Sizzles

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate attempt to impose peace in the track war between the Amateur Athletic Union and the nation's colleges has fizzled, and the feud might be sizzling again as soon as the Olympics are over.

A Senate Judiciary Committee spokesman said Tuesday the panel has no plans to act on a pending measure to create a new super group to oversee track meets and halt the feud before Congress goes home a month from now.

The truce between the AAU and the rival U.S. Track and Field Federation, backed by the colleges, will expire Nov. 1, four days after the Olympics end in Mexico City.

The USTFF already has announced it hopes to sponsor eight major indoor track meets this winter in defiance of the AAU, which has threatened in the past to strip the eligibility of college athletes who take part in meets it does not approve.

The USTFF has asked for a Justice Department antitrust investigation of the AAU. After 2½ months, the request is still under consideration.

The Senate Commerce Committee, which tried for three years to bring peace to the long an bitter battle between the USTFF and AAU, ducked out the back way last month and dumped the war on the doorstep of the Judiciary Committee.

The Commerce Committee treated threats to write into law a proposed compromise settlement that the colleges spurned in April because it left the bulk of the power to the AAU. Instead, the Commerce Committee went on record urging the approval of another measure pending in the Judiciary Committee.

That measure, sponsored by Sen. James E. Pearson, R-Kan.,

CVCC Schedules Holiday Tourney

The Conewago Valley Country Club will hold a holiday tournament over the Fourth of July weekend. Play may be on any one of three days, Thursday, Friday or Saturday.

The tournament will be a mixed two ball-best ball 18 hole-full handicap. Club Pro Ed Morgante is now accepting entries. Further information is available at the pro shop.

The 1968 American Motors Javelin, driven by Bobby Schnars is expected to be the center of attraction for the 50-lap race. The Javelin has won three races and finished in the top four twice in the first six events held at the Busti Speedway.

Fred Knapp of Jamestown and Jim Scott, winner of last week's feature have been given the pre-race edge in chances to beat Schnars. Other top Jamestown drivers are Sam Lalmancuso, Paul Wilson and Paul Hellman, all driving 1968 cars.

Former Firecracker winners who will race are Squirt Johns (1964), Tom Dill (1965), and Johnny Whitehead (1966). Schnars won last year's 50-lap race.

Ron Blackmer, known to racing devotees as the perennial old car king, will place his reputation on the line against an ever-increasing field of Sportsmen drivers. Sportsmen will race in a four-event program, topped by a 25-lap feature.

would charter a new super board to run the nation's amateur track meets. The Commerce Committee vote was viewed as a victory for the colleges because the super board would elevate the USTFF as an equal of the AAU, with both represented on the new panel.

But the victory is virtually meaningless, because the Judiciary Committee isn't going to touch the hot controversy this year.

WBA Champ Ellis To Meet Patterson

NEW YORK (AP) — Jimmy Ellis' defense of his World Boxing Association heavyweight championship against former champion Floyd Patterson in Stockholm appears all set for Sept. 14, Bob Arum said Tuesday.

Arum is secretary of Sports Action, Inc., which has been negotiating the title fight for weeks with Swedish promoter Edwin Almqvist. The fight would be telecast to the United States by satellite.

Ellis, 25, of Louisville, Ky., won an eight-man elimination tourney to gain WBA recognition as world heavyweight champion. Patterson, 33, held the world title twice.

Teen-ager Shot to Death In Gang Fight

PHILADELPHIA (AP)— Less than seven hours after Annie Ma Taylor pleaded for police help to stop gang shootings in her neighborhood, her 14-year-old son was shot to death in what police said was a gang fight.

"Please do something about the gangs," Mrs. Taylor begged Judge Vito Canuso in County Court Monday night. "Somebody's going to get killed."

Mrs. Taylor, 37, went to court with her son, Jonathan, charged with allegedly threatening another boy last Tuesday with a shotgun.

Jonathan was killed Monday night, police said, by the only shot fired in a battle between two gangs of 15 boys.

Police said the gangs battled with bricks, rocks and bottles for a short time before Jonathan, a member of one gang, was slain.

On Tuesday police said Michael Lucas, 15, was arrested at his home and charged with murder.

At the hearing, the judge released Jonathan in his mother's custody after records showed the boy had been arrested only once before—for larceny in 1965.

Mrs. Taylor, pleading for help in stopping the neighborhood gang warfare, told the court: "I can't do it. And my neighbors can't do it. We need help from police."

Mrs. Taylor then left the courtroom with her son.

On Tuesday officials met in the district attorney's office discussing ways of averting further gang violence in Mrs. Taylor's neighborhood in north Philadelphia.

Crucible Steel Co. Gives Discount On Large Purchases of Stainless Steel

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Crucible Steel Co. confirmed reports Tuesday that it is giving discount prices on large purchases of stainless steel sheet by major distributors.

A spokesman for the specialty steel maker said, "This is evidence of Crucible's intent to combat foreign steel by price competition in volume contracts."

He said the discounts have been given distributors who agree to buy so many dollars worth of stainless steel over a period of time.

The spokesman stressed that the deals have been made only with major distributors and only for stainless steel.

Stainless steel, while a small part of the overall steel market, represents a substantial portion of specialty steel producers' business.

Crucible said foreign steel firms now supply about 40 per cent of the stainless steel demand in the United States. Prices vary, the spokesman said, but generally foreign producers have been underselling U. S.

Court Reverses Decision On Warning Given Suspects

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Pennsylvania's Supreme Court unexpectedly yanked back Tuesday a controversial opinion it issued two months ago, apparently to ease police efforts for confessions.

One court observer said the seven justices now believe the original ruling was "too broad and unrealistic and needed to be revised to protect the public."

Chief Justice John C. Bell Jr. announced the action at an unusual news conference, but would give no specific reason. His only official comment was:

"The case involving mandatory warning by police and magistrates to every person suspected of crime, before the suspect makes a confession, has been withdrawn by the court."

When the case was decided 6-1 last May 3, Bell was the lone dissenter. It involved approval of a new trial for a 17-year-old girl convicted of second degree murder.

The court had ruled that Geraldine Taper of New Kensington, accused of the 1965 gun slaying of a Westmoreland County man, wasn't intelligently aware that she could have a lawyer by her side when she answered police questions about the shooting.

The chief justice said a new decision would be issued — but didn't say when. Nor would he comment on whether the court might order reargument of the case, as requested by the District Attorneys Association of Pennsylvania.

The state prosecutors had asked the state's highest tribunal to reconsider the decision, contending its broad provisions would eliminate all confessions by suspects.

Philadelphia Dist. Atty. Arlen Specter said that if the Taper ruling, as originally written, remained the law of the state more than 100 serious cases, including many homicides, would have been lost.

The strong guidelines in the now-withdrawn Taper decision directed that police must advise a suspect not only of his right to legal counsel, but that it probably would be advantageous to have a lawyer before answering any questions.

Specifically, the opinion said police must advise suspects "an attorney can inform him more fully of the nature of the charges, the statutory offenses included within them, the range of allowable punishments thereunder, possible defenses to the charges and circumstances in mitigation thereof, and all other facts essential to a broad understanding of the whole matter."

The chief justice, joined occasionally by Justice Michael A. Musmanno, is an eloquent advocate of measures designed to protect society against criminals.

Again and again, in and out of the court, he has spoken out against U. S. Supreme Court decisions that he claims give advantage to criminals at the expense of society.

Bell, on Tuesday, took another swipe at the majority of the Pennsylvania court which set aside a 15-year-old guilty plea in a Philadelphia holdup — murder on grounds the defendant was mentally incompetent to stand trial.

"It is impossible for me to understand how this court, 15 years after this brutal murder," said Bell, "could . . . release this murderer and further jeopardize society."

In his dissent, the chief justice said the majority opinion "completely ignores the protection of society against criminals, which is so desperately needed in these days when brutal crimes are increasing six times more rapidly than is our population."

Triplets Set Twin Precedent

SPRINGFIELD, Pa. (AP) — Triplets set a twin precedent here Tuesday.

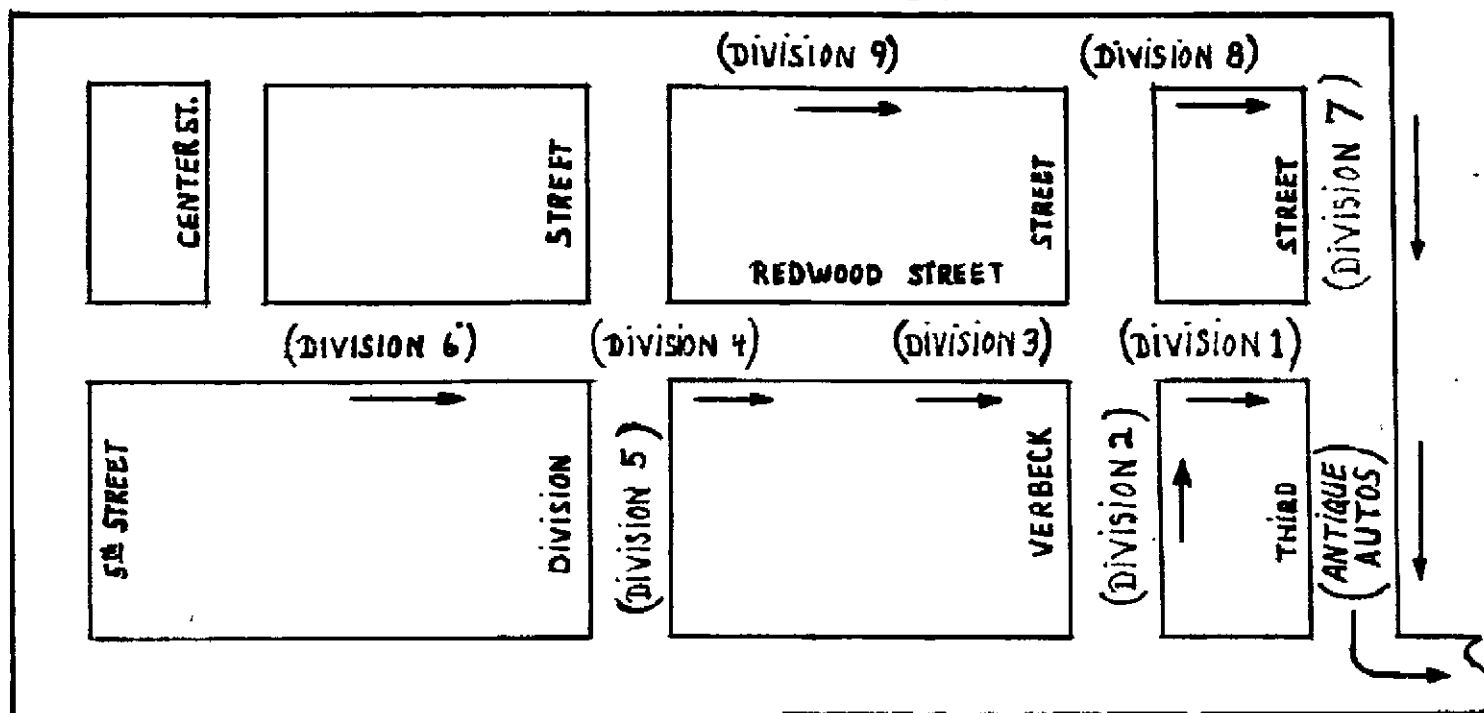

The first children of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Korenkiewicz, of Chester, were the first triplets ever born at Tri-County Hospital. They arrived between 2:02 a.m. and 2:20 a.m.

A girl, born first, weighed 3 pounds, 15 ounces. Her brothers weighed 2 pounds, 15 ounces and 3 pounds, 10 ounces.

The parents, a 25-year-old heating repairman and his 23-year-old wife, Pollyanne, said they were "tickled pink." Mrs. Korenkiewicz called the multiple births "a gift from God."

Fourth of July Parade Starts With Antique Autos

BUCHANAN STREET

CONEWANGO AVE

PARADE MOVES AT 11 A.M.

Sunny skies are anticipated for the Fourth of July—by the Jaycees who are sponsoring the festivities and the hundreds expected to attend the various events. It is to be hoped that their expectations are realized and that a sudden squall does not send marchers and viewers scattering as it did last year. The big parade will start promptly at 11 a.m., with divisions forming as indicated above.

The 9 Divisions of the Main Body of the parade and the Advance Group (Antique Autos) will form in the areas indicated on the above map.

START OF PARADE:
(1) At approximately 10:50 A.M., the Antique Autos will move out and proceed South on Conewango ave., to the intersection at Pennsylvania ave., where they will stop and wait for the Main Body of the parade to catch up before proceeding onto Pennsylvania ave. at the signal of Police Chief Evan.

(2) Division 1 will move immediately into the area vacated by the Antique Autos and Division 2 will move into the area vacated by Division 1. Both Divisions will stop momentarily in those new positions.

(3) At 11:00 A.M. sharp, the 1st Division will move out and proceed South on Conewango ave. All other Divisions will follow in order with as little gapping as possible.

Court Order Gives Employers Windfall from Compensation Fund

HARRISBURG (AP) — Under a court decree entered Monday, about 170,000 private employers of Pennsylvania stand to share a windfall of $60 million to $87 million from the unemployment compensation fund.

This was the variously estimated price tag put on a decision of Commonwealth Court holding that the adjustment factor in the rate of payroll tax collections in 1967 should have been at the rate of .2 per cent instead of 1 per cent.

The Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce brought suit in April of 1967 contending that the 1 per cent rate as set that year by the Bureau of Employment Security violated both the federal and state constitutions.

After final adjudication of the issue Tuesday, the bureau said it had not been determined as yet whether to appeal the decision to the State Supreme Court.

Still undecided, should the Commonwealth Court decision stand, was whether the bureau would distribute the rebates in cash or credit, or as a combination of both.

Final disposition of the issues raised in the chamber's suit was made in a three-page opinion handed down Tuesday by Judge James S. Bowman. The full six-judge court had heard

Abandoned Baby Found by Foreman

PITTSBURGH (AP) — An abandoned baby boy was found in a station wagon Tuesday. Pinned to his clothing was a note reading: "Born in June."

The baby, estimated to be a week old, was taken to Mercy Hospital in satisfactory condition. He was named Charles Doe.

The baby was found by the night foreman at the Gulf Building shortly before dawn.

arguments in the case on May 15.

The issue involved only the adjustment factor for 1967. A bureau spokesman said the computed rate for that year was 2.2 per cent but the bureau had added .8 per cent to it as an accumulation from prior years.

The adjustment factor is a common cost element of the rate which is applied equally to all employers' payrolls. The maximum is 1 per cent.

The other two elements in computing an employer's payroll tax are the experience factor and the funding factor. In the experience rating, the employer through low personnel turnover may earn a low rate of tax.

A spokesman explained that theoretically, the employer's rate in the experience factor may range from 0 to 3 per cent, and the funding factor, from 0 to 1 per cent.

GEMS OF WISDOM AND WIT are not uncommon in the Kiwanis bulletin, but every once in a while I come across one that carries more impact than others. The following is such a one. Titled "If Lincoln Lived Today" it goes like this: "Character is developed by enduring and overcoming hardships; by the determination to ignore handicaps; by perseverance in striving to produce results the hard way. This is well illustrated by former governor of Kansas, Henry J. Allen, in his following comment on Abraham Lincoln. 'Had Abraham Lincoln been living today, the Rotary Club would supply him with a set of books; and Lions Club with a good reading lamp; the Cosmopolitan Club with writing equipment; the Kiwanis Club with a wooden floor for the cabin. He would have the protection of the child labor insurance. A kindly philanthropist would send him to college with a scholarship. Incidentally, a case worker would see that his father received a monthly check from the county. He would receive a subsidy for rail splitting; another one for raising a crop he was going to raise anyway, and still another subsidy for not raising a crop he had no intention of raising. Results: There would have been no Abraham Lincoln.'"

THE 20TH ANNUAL PITTSFIELD COMMUNITY PICNIC takes place this Saturday, July 6th, at the Arnold Park in Pittsfield at 12 noon. Meat, rolls and coffee will be provided by the committee in charge of the affair. The entire community is invited, and those attending are asked to bring large tureens and table service.

JULY 4TH PARADE WATCHERS may also satisfy the inner man with Sloppy Joes and ice cold canned pop which will be sold by the Ladies Auxiliary of the Fraternal Order of Eagles. The ladies will operate their "dining area" right in front of the Eagles Club. The funds realized will help finance various projects sponsored by the Auxiliary.

STRAWBERRY FESTIVAL TIME IS HERE and so far two have been announced: The first is being sponsored by the Akeley United Methodist Church for this Saturday, July 6th, and the menu planned is such that the family can substitute dining out for the usual meal at home. From 5 to 8 p.m. the menu of baked beans, hot dogs, hamburgs, potato chips, along with a choice of strawberry sundaes, pies and shortcakes will be served. A special feature this year will be a Bazaar filled with lovely homemade articles having a strawberry motif. Proceeds from the annual festival will go towards the church's building fund.

The second Strawberry Festival is being sponsored by the Sheffield-Clarendon Catholic Daughters of America. The date is Monday, July 15th, with serving from 5 to 8 p.m. at the St. Paul Parish Center. The tickets for this event are 50 cents each and will include a choice of Strawberry Shortcake or Strawberry Sundae. They are being sold by all members of the CD of A. . . . Everyone is invited to attend.

MINIATURES: Mrs. Harry Dunkle held a piano recital for her students at the Wrightsville Community Church. These students participated; Diane Wawrejko, Cheryl Jaquith, Elaine Jaquith, Darlene Wawrejko, Mary Porter, Dolores Wawrejko. The young musicians were well received according to their teacher.

The Lady Warren Rebekah Lodge will hold its regular meeting this Friday evening at 8. All members are urged to be present. The Meadville Children's Home project will be discussed.

Mrs. Susan Boyd, formerly of Warren, is a patient in the Kimbrough Army Hospital, Fort George G. Meade (2C) Maryland. She would enjoy hearing from friends in this area.

Ann Landers

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'll come right to the point and not try to make excuses for myself. The plain truth is that I have been married for four years and I do not know how to make a decent cup of coffee.

I have blamed the pot, the water, the brand of coffee, and finally, the stove. I have gone from percolator to drip to electric to the open pot method. I've tried nine different brands of coffee and have even bought coffee beans and ground them myself. The results are the same. Rotten coffee.

What is wrong with a woman who can bake a Danish torte and prepare baked Alaska but can't make a good cup of coffee? — HATE MYSELF

DEAR SELF: The simplest things are the ones that can drive a person nuts. I know how you feel. I can't make Jello.

I don't know what you are doing wrong, but perhaps some of the great coffee makers in my reading audience will come up with some homey hints. How about it, girls? If there's a coffee secret out there, please spill it.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: What I have to say will apply to thousands of married children, not just our own. I hope I can express myself well enough so you will print my letter.

A few weeks before Christmas, our anniversary, Mother's Day, Father's Day, and so on, the phone calls start — first from the daughters, then the daughters-in-law. They all ask, "What can we buy you?"

Of course I can't tell them that what we really want is not for sale. An invitation to a family meal with everyday chatter would be more delicious than a seven-course banquet in the finest restaurant.

An offer to drive us to town once in a while so we wouldn't have to fight the heavy traffic and park in a lot and feed meters would be pure heaven.

Even a 10-minute phone call that is not a request to babysit, but a call just to visit, would be a rare treat.

What a joy it would be if our children would ask us to join them at the theater one night, or the symphony, or a movie — just knowing they thought of us would be a lift.

I guess what I'm trying to say is thoughtfulness and consideration are the best gifts of all. — MARRIED 40 YEARS

DEAR MARRIED: Thanks for your letter. And to the married kids in the reading audience I say, "If the shoe fits — wear it."

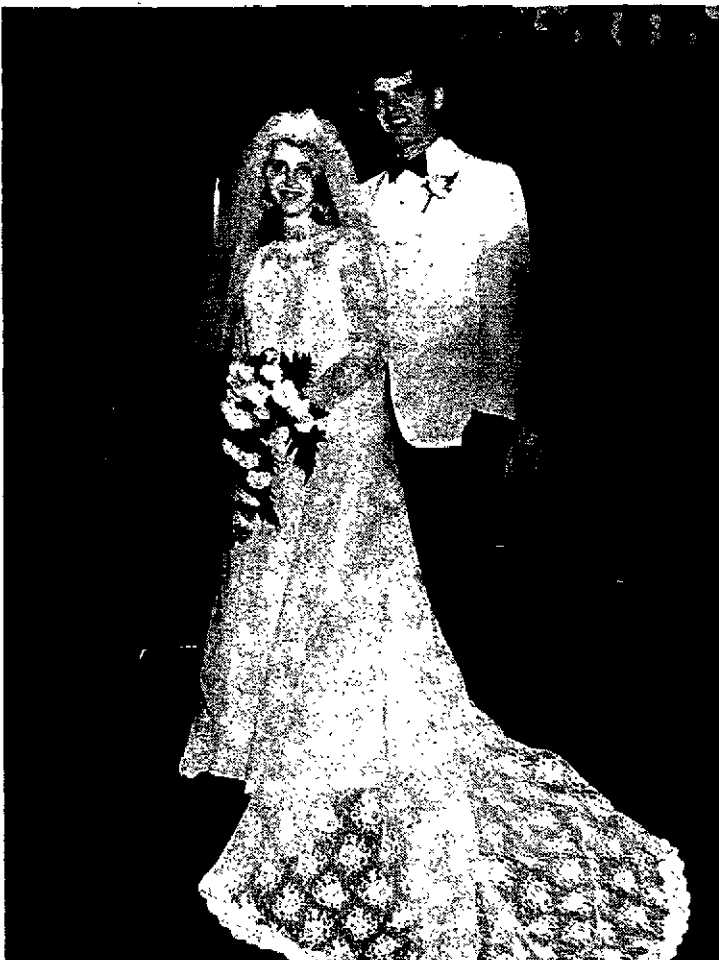

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am in love with a married man. It all started innocently. When he told me he loved me, I knew I loved him, too. The third time we went out of town together he admitted he was married, so you see he is honest.

His marriage was a shotgun type. He never loved his wife and they have been living like brother and sister for two years. He decided to get a divorce a year before I came along. I want to marry this man but I don't want people to think I broke up his marriage. How can I protect my reputation? — MISS D.

DEAR D.: If the marriage is dead and you don't want to be accused of killing it, don't hang around the corpse. Tell him when he's a free man to call you up. And don't hold your breath waiting for the phone to ring, Baby.

Unsure of yourself on dates? What's right? What's wrong? Should you? Shouldn't you? Send for Ann Landers' booklet "Dating Do's and Don'ts," enclosing with your request 35 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

MR. AND MRS. GARY SEYMOUR

Vows Pledged June 29th In First Methodist Church

On June 29 Miss Rebecca Ann Riggs became the bride of Mr. Gary Robert Seymour in the First Methodist Church of Warren. The Rev. Dr. Adolph P. Weaver performed the double ring ceremony in the presence of one hundred twenty-five guests.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin A. Riggs of 106 Elm street, Warren. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert N. Seymour, 25 Marner street, Warren.

Mr. William Brockiebank served as organist. Candles ornamented the altar, which was banked with vases of white chrysanthemums, gladioli, and ferns.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride appeared in an A-line gown of imported rayon organza. Pearl and scalloped Chantilly lace encircled the oval neckline, accentuating the yoked redingote front. The lace cage effect swept to a Watteau chapel train. Her long sleeves ended in wedding points. She wore a waist length nylon-tulle veil and a headpiece of petals, set with brilliants and seed pearls. The bridal bouquet was white carnations centered with a corsage of white roses.

Maid of honor was Miss Jeri Book, wearing a yellow lace cage over a floor length empire style taffeta sheath, and a blue daisy halo headpiece. She carried a matching colonial bouquet.

In gowns of the same style as that of the honor attendant were the bridesmaids, Miss Barbara Kane of Youngsville, cousin of the bride, in pale green; and Miss Nan Lewis of Bradford, cousin of the bride, in pale blue. Their headpieces were of yellow daisies with matching bouquets.

Mistress Michelle Johnson, Jamestown, niece of the groom, was the flower girl. In a dress of white voile with a blue and yellow headband, she carried matching daisies in a basket.

Engaged

LINDA BETH HANNOLD

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hannold of Youngsville announce the engagement of their daughter, Linda Beth, to Gerald G. Van Houten, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Van Houten of RD 2, Sugar Grove.

Miss Hannold is a 1968 graduate of Youngsville High School and will be attending Jamestown Community College. Her fiancé, a 1963 alumnus of Eisenhower High School, served four years in the U.S. Navy and is currently employed by the Tri-co Electric Company in Erie.

No date has been set for the wedding.

NOTICE
Warren Relief Association's office will be closed for the second week in July. The staff will be on vacation.

Best man was Rodney Seymour, brother of the groom. Ushers were Jeffrey Munksgard and James E. Johnson, brother-in-law of the groom, from Jamestown, N.Y.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Riggs was attired in a dress of pink shantung and lace, with white accessories and a gardenia corsage. The mother of the groom selected a green and white silk dress and white accessories, and was given a gardenia corsage.

Mrs. S. W. Riggs and Mrs. Mabel B. Loree, grandmothers of the bride, and Mrs. E. W. Erickson, grandmother of the groom, were also remembered with corsages.

A reception was held in the Dunham Parlors of the church for one hundred twenty-five guests. The bride's table was decorated with crystal candleholders and white candles, and vases of white flowers. The couple had a four tier wedding cake.

Aides were Mrs. Carolyn Riggs, Mrs. Yvonne Johnson, Miss Barbara Lander, and Miss Kathy Beach. Miss Candy Kane was in charge of the guest book.

For a wedding trip to Gettysburg, the bride chose a blue lined A-line skimmer with white accessories. She also wore the white rose corsage from her bouquet.

The new Mrs. Seymour is presently employed at Warren State Hospital. Her husband is serving with the U.S. Navy and, after a thirty-day leave, will be sent to Vietnam.

Pre-nuptial affairs were given by Mrs. Eleanor Kane and Miss Barbara Kane; Mrs. Albert Book and Miss Jeri Book; Mrs. Robert Lewis and Miss Nan Lewis; and by the office employees at Warren State Hospital. The rehearsal dinner was given by the groom's parents at the Penn Restaurant.

Guests attended from Bradford, Sharon, and Ridgway, Penna.; Jamestown, N. Y.; Washington, D. C.; and St. Petersburg, Fla.

WAHS Band Trip

Senior Vice President Mrs. E. W. Swanson conducted the recent meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary to V.F.W. Post 631, in the absence of President Jeanne Godwin. After the pledge to the Flag, Musician Edith Briggs provided the group with piano accompaniment for the Star-Spangled Banner.

Chairman Mrs. Arthur Lingo made a report on the recent rummage sale sponsored by the group. Proceeds are to help meet the expenses of sending the Warren Area High School Band to Philadelphia, where they will lead a parade on Friday evening, July 12, honoring Eugene Manfrey who will be installed on July 13 as V.F.W. State Commander.

The Auxiliary's delegates to the convention are Mrs. Eugene Manfrey and Mrs. Don Raybuck. Mrs. Manfrey was also elected a delegate to the National Convention to be held in Detroit on August 16-23 at Cobo Hall. The group then voted to send a check to the State Commander's gift fund.

During the social hour following the meeting, refreshments were served by the social committee, under Mrs. William Weaver and Mrs. Arthur Lingo.

Because of the State Convention, there will be no meeting on July 11. The next regular meeting will be held on Thursday, July 25, at 8 p.m. in the V.F.W. 631 Post room.

St. Michael's Notes

Holy Communion will be taken to the shut-in parishioners of St. Michael Catholic Church, Sheffield, on Friday morning following the Choral Divine Liturgy. Moleben to the Sacred Heart of Jesus will be sung at 7 p. m.

Immediately following the Divine Liturgy in honor of Pope Paul's fifth anniversary on Sunday, the pastor of the church, the Rev. Dr. Julius Kubinyi, intoned the polychrone and the congregation and choir responded with the hymn "For Many Years, For Many Blessed Years, In Health and Salvation."

The annual parish picnic will be held this coming Sunday on the church picnic grounds at Deerlick. The public is invited. The annual affair will start at noon with the serving of a cabbage roll dinner and other refreshments. This is a time of reunion for old friends and former parishioners who travel great distances to attend. Baked goods will also be sold during the picnic.

The Philadelphia chancery of the archdiocese has announced that Cardinal Joseph Slipy, the head of the wide-spread Ukrainian Catholic Church, who suffered 18 years imprisonment in the slave labor camps of Siberia in defense of his Church and people, has accepted the invitation of the Ukrainian bishops in the USA to visit Ukrainian Catholics here.

Metropolitan Ambrose Sanyshyn, OSEB, archbishop of Philadelphia, host for the July 20-21 visit of this Christian Hero and prime of 7 million Ukrainian rite Catholics, has given priests in the archdiocese permission to anticipate the Sunday obligation of July 21 with evening Divine Liturgies in their parishes on July 20 in order to facilitate their attendance at the festivities which includes a mammoth welcome and tribute in Philadelphia's new sports stadium, the Spectrum.

Grange News

At the last meeting of Akeley Grange, Carver Wiltsie presided. Ida Grace Larson explained that the State Grange is sponsoring a contest for colored photographs and art, and that anyone interested in either may get in touch with her. Local judging will take place on July 19.

Miss Larson also conducted a quiz based on the ritual quiz given at the Youth Conference. The program theme, "Food," was carried out with the reading of an article on grass, a quiz on flowers and one on animals entitled Circus Menu, and a reading of "The Seven Stages of Man."

Mrs. Catherine Van Orsdale played songs on the piano with song titles naming foods, to be guessed by the group. Arthur Bradley read an article called "Think of the Bee," explaining the work of a bee in making a pound of honey.

The June birthdays observed were Henry Larson, Mrs. Edna Safford, and Mrs. Cecil Cable. Mrs. Mary Park and Miss Ida Grace Larson attended a leadership school at Gettysburg for three days, representing the Women's Activities and Lecturer. They were among the ten attending from Warren County and the five hundred from the state.

The next meeting will be held on July 5.

MR. AND MRS. LLOYD FERRY

Celebrate 25th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Ferry celebrated their Silver Wedding Anniversary at an open house held at the William Schuman residence, Miller Hill, on June 29. The affair was hosted by their three children, John, Peter, and Margerie. Mr. Ferry and his wife, the former Jean Cutmore, were married on June 23, 1943, at St. Peter's Church, Rushden, Northamptonshire, England. At the time, Mr. Ferry was serving with the 29th Division of the U.S. Army.

Mrs. Ferry wore a blue silk dress for the occasion. She was presented with a rose corsage, and her husband had a carnation boutonniere.

Aides were Mrs. Sam Notoro, Mary and Celia Schuman.

The Ferrys were honored by the presence of Mr. and Mrs. William McKewon of Baltimore. Mr. McKewon was best man at their wedding.

Hints From Heloise

DEAR HELOISE:

Perhaps you can help me. Starched handkerchiefs for men's business suits should be stiff but not scorched. My wife has a devil of a time trying to iron them without scorching them.

Do you have any suggestions?

Please do not print my name or my wife will use her flat iron to flatten my head!

No Name

DEAR FOLKS:

Though this is a Letter of Laughter (and I laughed hard), I do have an answer.

After washing and lightly starching a beautiful handkerchief and while it is still completely wet, spread it out on the bathroom mirror, refrigerator door, shower door or any window pane. Smooth it out with your hands by gently rubbing it so that it will become flat and stick to the surface without any wrinkles. It will NOT fall off, when wet or dry. The starch takes care of this little matter. (Another laugh: Works the same without starch.)

It will dry as quick as a whistle.

Then gently pull the handkerchief away from the flat surface and it will be unscorched (this is especially for you and your wife, sir), and may be folded beautifully by placing it on a flat surface and creasing it with your fingernail!

This not only eliminates scorching and ironing time but every little grain and fiber of the material will look as if it were brand new since it has not been flattened by a hot iron.

Heloise

DEAR HELOISE:

I made a wonderful garden kneeling pad from a lot of crushed-up plastic bags placed inside two good strong ones. Weather doesn't bother it and it's soft to kneel on for weeding.

It's a real joy!

Mrs. Roger J. Whiteford.

Please take note: She said plastic. These are heavier than pillow. We know to keep this plastic bags out of the reach of children.

Opening lead: King of ♠
West opened the king of diamonds against South's three no trump contract, and declarer, observing that a diamond continuation would automatically present him with an extra trick in that suit, permitted the king to hold — following suit with the nine of diamonds. When East played the three, however, West was not taken in by declarer's actions.

West realized from East's discouraging signal that South was apt to hold both missing diamond honors and, in an attempt to get his partner in to lead thru declarer's holding, West decided to shift to the ten of spades. The four was played from dummy, East alertly overtook with the jack and South played the ace, in a belated effort to preserve his diamond holding from attack.

A heart was led to the ace in order to put the queen of clubs thru. The finesse lost to West's king and a spade continuation thru North's queen enabled East to cash four tricks in that suit, and South suffered a 100 point setback on the deal.

Declarer would not have gained by permitting East to hold the lead with the jack of spades when West shifted to that suit. A diamond return by East drives out South's ace and, when West gets in with the king of clubs, he can cash the setting tricks in diamonds.

South can assure his contract by winning the opening diamond lead and then crossing over to the dummy in hearts to take the club finesse for, even if West gets in with the king of clubs, he cannot continue diamonds without giving declarer another trick. As soon as the clubs are established, South has nine tricks — four hearts, three clubs, one spade, and one diamond. Declarer should, therefore, have devoted his efforts to keeping East — the danger hand — out of the lead.

Your Horoscope

By Frances Drake

Look in the section in which your birthday comes, and find what your outlook is, according to the stars. FOR WEDNESDAY, JULY 3, 1968

ARIES (March 21 to April 20)—Some project in which you are involved may not be "jelling" quite as you'd like, but be PATIENT! There may be some new factors up for consideration, some area which needs revision. Keep eyes and ears open!

TAURUS (April 21 to May 21)—You may have a tendency to lethargy now. Don't yield to it, since the best intentions in the world will produce nothing if not followed up by sincere, constructive effort. In self-mastery lies your answer.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21)—Just as the Taurus, you, too, may have to discipline yourself sternly to keep on the road to accomplishment now. Be especially careful not to lose your self-control if certain persons annoy you.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23)—Give of your know-how and experience and express your opinions if asked but, in the doing, avoid being critical or patronizing. Emphasize the positive!

LEO (July 24 to August 23)—You can be a front-row-center personality if you watch your step, put forth best efforts and project hope and confidence. There is a tendency to vacillate now. Counteract in your most steadfast manner.

VIRGO (August 24 to September 23)—Every day brings brand new opportunities to use your talents, to expand and benefit in various ways. There is also the margin for error — if you are not careful. This day calls for spunk and foresight.

LIBRA (September 24 to October 23)—This day can be a "knockout"! If you are looking for happiness through constructive achievement you can register a solid victory now. Steady does it!

SCORPIO (October 24 to November 23)—Line up obligations, and handle them with confidence. In free moments, make plans for other activities. A good period in which to cultivate latent talents.

SAGITTARIUS (November 23 to December 21)—Don't let the restrictions of routine dampen your ardor for achievement. But, on the other hand, don't overtax yourself. There are judicious limitations for all endeavors.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 20)—In a desire for "greener" pastures, you may tend to neglect routine responsibilities. Don't! Attend to "musts" first, and only then take on more desirable activities.

AQUARIUS (January 21 to February 19)—Note Capricorn. Under present planetary influences, your advice similar. Be tactful, discreet in dealings with others.

PISCES (February 20 to March 20)—Avoid extremes. Hold the line against confusion and chaos. Seek experienced counsel if stymied in any undertaking.

YOU BORN TODAY are noted for depth of affection and, while of a generally conservative nature, many of this sign become successful heads of industry and outstanding librarians. Curb a tendency to "argue it out"; you never enjoy the after-effects. Highly developed natives of Cancer are usually the moral and psychological leaders in their group, and need no strength in numbers to support their principles. You may amass wealth (surely will gain a tremendous store of information) through persistence, scholarly progressiveness. Stop worrying about yourself or others. Birthdate of: King Louis XI, of France; Henry Grafton, Irish statesman; John Mason Brown, dramatic critic.

How to Keep Well

By Dr. T. R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

MEDICAL BROWSING
Beer drinker's finger is an unusual disorder. Recently Dr. R. Reilly Maginn of St. Louis wrote a letter on the subject to the editor of the Journal of the American Medical Association. During a drinking party a 29-year-old woman began to slip the rings of pop-top cans on her left ring finger. On awakening the next day, the digit was painful and swollen.

At the City Hospital Emergency room she complained of pain but was a bit vague about the metallic "jewelry." Prior attempts at removal had macerated the tissues that now were bleeding. The aluminum bands were snipped off with a cutter and the woman made a complete recovery despite her concern that she might lose the end of the digit.

Dr. Maginn was philosophical about the nature of the injury considering that pop-tops are a wonderful invention that save the beer drinker time, labor, and perhaps money. Children often pick up these tops, and slip them on a finger. But because the finger is tiny, the practice is not hazardous. The situation is different among heavy beer drinkers, because the hand and fingers usually swell at night.

Trigger finger has nothing to do with firearms. In this condition, a snapping sound is heard every time the digit is bent. It takes additional force to overcome the locking. The noise stems from obstruction in the tendon sheath; the tendon is too large or the sheath too small.

Inflammation of the sheath with hourglass scarring is one of the most common causes. When the tendon is forced to slip through the constricted area of the sheath, it bunches. The click or sudden snap occurs when the bunched up tendon is pulled through the obstruction. The disorder is rare in children, but the Mayo clinic treated a 1-year-old who had a trigger finger on both hands.

TOMORROW: Safe Picnic.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

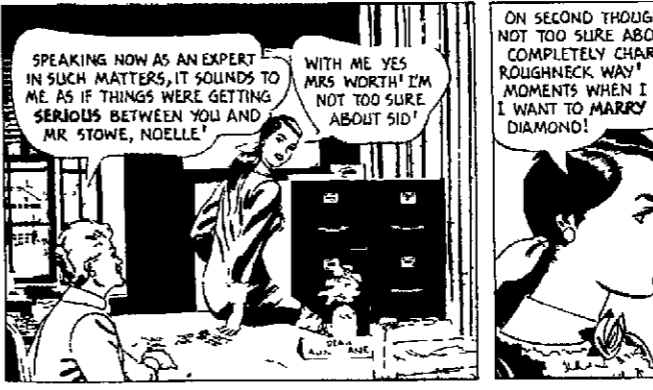

CIRCULATION AND DIET
R.G. writes: What is a proper diet for poor blood circulation, and is there a cure for this condition?

REPLY
You cannot improve on the normal diet because foods per se have nothing to do with circulation. A diet low in animal fats with moderate amounts of vegetable oils may be helpful if your cholesterol level is high and poor circulation stems from arteriosclerosis. This regimen will not cure, but it may prevent the disorder from getting worse. Other than this, diet plays no role in poor circulation.

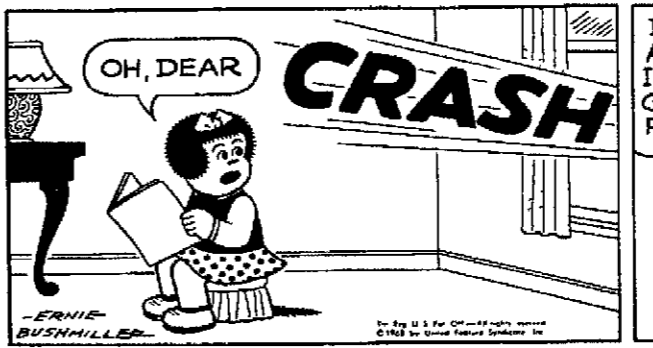

RARE DISEASE OF GLANDS
A reader writes: What do you know about Mikulicz's disease?

REPLY
Not much, because I've seen only one case. This rare disorder involves the salivary and lacrimal glands, which become markedly swollen. Most victims are between the ages of 20 and 40 and enlargement may last a few hours to several weeks. Now and then the syndrome occurs in leukemia.

TV Highlights

Wednesday

U.N.C.L.E. on Ch. 4 at 5 p.m. presents "The Girls of Nazarene". Solo and Ilya fall into the lovely hands of a beautiful — but brutal — bevy of Thrustettes when they go to Europe seeking a secret formula that brings the dead back to life. THE VIRGINIAN finds Trampas and two Shiloh Ranch hands in a doomed town and threatened by a gunslinger after they have delivered cattle to an out-laying army post in "Execution at Triste" on Chs. 2, 6, and 12 at 7:30 p.m. KRAFT MUSIC HALL with Ed McMahon is presented on Chs. 2, 6, and 12 at 9 p.m. This is a musical variety program presented in the round and starring Lana Cantrell, Richard Pryor, Franki Valli, and the Four Seasons, Roger Williams and Billy Barnes.

Thursday

MOVIE 4 TONIGHT on Ch. 4 at 7 p.m. presents "Damn Yankees" starring Tab Hunter, Gwen Verdon and Ray Walston. Avid, middle-age baseball fan makes a deal with the Devil and is transformed into a young first-class ballplayer who leads the Washington Senators to the pennant. DANIEL BOONE starring Fess Parker presents a repeat of "The Value of a King" on Chs. 2, 6, and 12 at 8:30 p.m. Daniel and his son Israel are captured by a band of runaway slaves and Daniel is horrified by the group's plight and offers to fetch tools to remove their irons. THURSDAY NIGHT MOVIE on Ch. 4 at 9 p.m. is "Flight from Ashiya" starring Yul Brynner, Richard Widmark and George Chakiris, in the story of the military Air-Sea Rescue operations developed during World War II and specifically the problems of three airmen. CONVERSATION WITH DUKE ELLINGTON on Ch. 7 at 10:30 p.m. is the first in a series of Conversations. Ellington is regarded as one of the leading jazz personalities of our time. Relaxed and seated at a piano, he speaks freely with Elizabeth Dribben about his early years in the music business and plays excerpts from many of his best-known compositions.

AT CHAUTAUQUA

'H.M.S. Pinafore' to Play

The good ship "H.M.S. Pinafore" rides into port on the stage of Norton Memorial Hall Friday, July 5, opening night of the 1968 opera season. "Pinafore" will be repeated on Monday evening, July 8. In this, one of the liveliest of all operettas, sailors will dance the hornpipe, Little Buttercup will peddle her wares, Dick Deadeye will slink and Josephine, the lass whose father is "ruler of the Queen's Naves" will finally wed the handsome but lowly sailor.

"Pinafore's" cast is filled with names familiar to Chautauqua's opera goers. Gil Gallagher, a name synonymous with Chautauqua's Gilbert and Sullivan productions, will sing the role of Sir Joseph Porter. Sean Barker, singing Captain Corcoran, was heard in last season's Gilbert and Sullivan, "The Gondoliers." William Fleck, who will be heard as Dick Deadeye, appeared last season in "The Crucible," "Lucia," and "The Gondoliers." Leo Goeke, in the role of the young hero, Rick Rackshaw, sang last year in "Falstaff," "The Marriage of Figaro," and "The Gondoliers." New faces to Chautauqua will be Mary Beth Ames, singing Josephine, Batyah Godfrey as little Buttercup and Robert Stevens as the Boatwain.

Tickets for "Pinafore" may be obtained by writing or phoning the Play and Opera Ticket Office at Chautauqua, or at the Chamber of Commerce in Jamestown or the Charles Tranter Public Relations Office in Warren, Pa.

In addition to the opening performance of "Pinafore" the opera season will include "La Traviata" by Verdi, July 12 and 15; "Il Tabarro" (The Cloak) and "Gianni Schicci" two operas by Puccini, July 19 and 22 with a Saturday matinee July 20; "The Tales of Hoffmann" by Offenbach, July 26 and 29; "Susannah" by Carlisle Floyd, August 2 and 5 with a Saturday matinee August 3; "Don Giovanni" by Mozart, August 9 and 12, all to be presented in Norton Hall. The last performance of the season will be Jerome Kern's "Kiss Me Kate" to be given in the Chautauqua Amphitheater on August 16 and 19.

LUDLOW AREA NEWS

By MRS. HILDUR WENSTRAN
The Prichilla Unit of North Church were guests at the home of Mrs. Wade Cochran on Gibbs Hill Wednesday afternoon with nine being present. Miss Tillie Olson led the Bible study. A tureen dinner was served and was much enjoyed.

The members of Wildcat Park Auxiliary met at the De Fost Pavilion Tuesday evening. President Mrs. Davis Shaffer conducted the business meeting. Mrs. R. L. Thomas of Tidote, Pa., gave an interesting program on her hobby, drying and painting flowers; she had some on display. Hostesses serving refreshments were Mrs. Mevin McCleary, Mrs. John Campbell and Mrs. Leroy Johnson.

Members of the American Legion Auxiliary who attended the County Council meeting in Johnsonburg Saturday afternoon were Mabelle Nelson, Virginia

Anderson, Marge Olson, Nina Peterson, Anna Misulich and Lena Okruch.

Visitors at the home of Miss Rose Nelson recently have been Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Tracy and children, Mrs. Marian Lund of Jamestown, N. Y., and Richard Johnson of Fairview.

Mr. and Mrs. William Gundersen of New York City have arrived at the family home for the summer.

"Joy Over Penitent Sinners" was the sermon topic by the Rev. Carl F. Ellason Sunday morning. The church choir sang the anthem "Under His Wings". Flowers were in memory of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Nelson from Rose Nelson, and flowers on the piano were in memory of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Swanson and daughters Eva, Edith, Linnea and Mabel, from Mr. and Mrs. William Hanson.

Last Wednesday night following choir rehearsal the members enjoyed a coffee party. This was their last rehearsal before the summer vacation.

Mrs. R. L. Thomas of Tidote spent a few days with her daughter, Mabelle Nelson, last week.

Mrs. Evert C. Johnson returned home Sunday, June 23, from a three-week vacation in New Cumberland, Pa., with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Johnson. The Johnsons recently moved there from Gettysburg. While there, the Evert Johnsons became grandparents of another little girl, born June 13, 1968, and named Karin Ann. She has a sister, Kristen Ann.

Mrs. Carlton Olson entertained the Sewing Club at Wildcat Park Wednesday night with all members present.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Carlson of Corry were Sunday visitors at the home of Theodore Wasieleski.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Adams and son John, and Miss Cheri Olson of Canadagula, N. Y., were weekend guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Olson and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Carlson.

Mr. and Mrs. William Nystran are visiting relatives in Cleveland, Ohio.

Miss Patsy Ralston left from Bradford Airport Sunday for a week's vacation with her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jeff McDonough in Middlebury, Vt.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kulka had as their guests for several days, Mr. and Mrs. George Swanson of DuBois, Pa., and Mr. Bob Swanson from Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Anna Bergquist gave a turkey dinner Sunday, June 23, to celebrate the birthday of Mr. Harold Bengtson of Warren. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bengtson, Mr. and Mrs.

Sam Caruso and Mrs. Mary Rose Caruso of Jamestown, N. Y., and Mrs. Florence Mourer of Youngsville.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Swanson, Mrs. Nannie Swanson and Mr. Chester Swanson, were in Emporium on Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Jones, celebrating Mrs. Jones' birthday. A delicious dinner was enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Dippery of Delray Beach, Florida, visited Mrs. Robert E. Wenstran Monday and Tuesday. Mrs. Dippery is the former Lydia Dickenson of Ludlow.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Munich, Warren; Mrs. Laurence Cole, Kissimmee, Fla.; and Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Bair of Wetmore Rd., attended two days of the June Reunion of the Coudersport Consistory at Coudersport, Pa.

Ten-year-old Barry Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Johnson, suffered a broken wrist while playing last Saturday. He was admitted to Kane Community Hospital for treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Carlson of Sheffield were dinner guests at the home of Mrs. Agnes Anderson and Mrs. Mollie Stamm on Sunday.

Mrs. W. E. Kunkle of Olean and Miss Carol Ann Kunkle of Kent, Ohio, were weekend visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Hanson.

Debbie Anderson and Lauri Olson spent a week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Federico in Jamestown, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Cole of Kissimmee, Florida have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Bair of Wetmore Road for a few days.

Mrs. Randall Nord and son Christopher of Atlanta, Ga., have arrived at the home of other parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. Bernal Connolly, for a few weeks' vacation.

Miss Susie Federko from Ashville, N. Y., is spending this weekend at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ward Anderson and daughter Bonnie.

KICK OUT THE CURED CALCUTTA, India (AP) — State officials have had to order a number of cured tuberculosis patients to leave a sanitarium near Calcutta.

They said some of the patients enjoyed the free care and had stayed on as long as five years after they were pronounced cured. Meanwhile more than 500 patients were on the waiting list for admission.

POOR PITCHING
AIR FORCE ACADEMY, Colo. (AP) — It sounds like the married men against the single men at the office picnic, Denver University scored four in the ninth to beat Air Force Academy 33-29 in a baseball marathon in which the teams collected 57 hits in nearly five hours of scrambling. Denver used seven pitchers, the Cadets five.

IS YOUR HOME FOR SALE?
3 Big Reasons Why
We Sell So Many Homes Without Being Advertised
1. We are constantly in touch with local industries relative to the anticipated needs of their incoming employees.
2. We contact many prospective out-of-town buyers before they arrive in Warren to start house hunting. Our brochures and correspondence brings them directly to our office.
3. We maintain active up-to-date prospect files on local people who have told us what they want, where they want it, and how much they want to pay. Many times the right telephone call will sell your house.
A CHAT WITH US COSTS YOU NOTHING UNLESS WE SELL FOR A PRICE YOU ARE WILLING TO ACCEPT!

Pennsylvania Happenings

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Nearly everybody in America snacks

between meals on such things

as potato chips, nuts and pretzels. So what else is new?

A Philadelphia firm—Ameri-

can Viscose Division of FMC

Corp.—made the survey and reports only three per cent never snack "giving diets or doctor's orders as the reason."

Aviso, which makes the cellophane wrappings used by the snack-producing companies, said

84.7 per cent of men, women and children in the United States

eat potato chips at one time or another.

Nuts are second at 67.1 per cent, followed by corn chips 60 per cent and pretzels 57.2 per cent.

In the East, the order is with corn chips running behind nuts and pretzels.

"When snacks are served with beverages," says the report, "the snack preferred depends on the beverage. Potato chips is the choice with soft

Slippery Rock State College May Lose Accreditation

BUTLER, Pa. (AP)—A team

of educators toured Slippery Rock State College Tuesday, interviewing teachers and administrative officials to see how deep a rift exists on the Board of Trustees.

The five-man team from the Middle States Association of

Colleges and Secondary Schools

arrived on the campus Monday night for a two-day stay.

"They're talking with everyone," a college spokesman said. "They're meeting with members of the administration and members of the faculty. There are some students here, but I don't know if they meet with them."

The team is investigating

what the association calls

"divisiveness" on Slippery

Rock's board. The association

also says the college's central administration needs reorganizing.

The spokesman said the team

could recommend that Slippery Rock lose its accreditation with the association, be placed on two years' probation or clear

the school of the charges.

Frank P. Piskor, chairman of the association's Commission on

Institutions of Higher Education, outlined what could happen in a letter dated May 2 to

Robert Lowry, Slippery Rock's

acting president.

Piskor wrote, "Unless effective action is taken by June 30,

1968, to redress the present situation within the Board of Trustees and the central administration of Slippery Rock

College, the college will be dropped from the accredited list

as of that date.

"The present, most unfortunate division within the board cannot continue without destroying the educational effectiveness of the college," Piskor wrote.

"I don't know what will happen if we lose our accreditation," the college spokesman said. "We'll just have to get to work and get it back — try to correct what they find wrong."

The spokesman said the team

was meeting with officials and teachers behind closed doors.

He said he had no idea when

Slippery Rock would receive its report.

"I would guess that we would get it rather soon," he said.

"But I wouldn't want to guess

on a date."

The association investigation is the latest in a series of controversies at Slippery Rock in the past year.

The furor began when former college President Robert S. Carter attempted to dismiss the chairman of the English department, Dr. David Orr, the faculty rebelled at the firing and this led to a "no confidence" facul-

Schweiker Dinner Abandoned; GOP Makes Different Plans

HARRISBURG (AP) — Republicans have abandoned plans for one $100 fund-raising dinner and are concentrating now on a similar new project.

Republican State Chairman

John C. Jordan disclosed Tuesday that efforts are being made to secure the party's presidential nominee as the featured speaker for a $100 dinner in Harrisburg Oct. 31.

At the same time, Jordan said

plans for a $100 dinner honoring

U. S. Rep. Richard S. Schweik-

er, the Republican nominee for U. S. Senate, have been abandoned.

The dinner had been planned

as an Eisenhower-for-Schweiker affair, and sponsors had decided to go ahead with it even after former President Dwight D. Eisenhower became ill. Eisenhower received. Contributors were offered the option of a refund or letting the money remain in the GOP campaign chest, Jordan

said.

The chairman said his party's two avowed candidates for the presidential nomination — former Vice President Richard M.

Nixon and New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller — have been asked for commitment on the dinner planned for Oct. 31. No reply from either candidate has been received, Jordan said.

Task Force Disorder Report Called Farce

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A civil rights leader unleashed a stinging attack Tuesday on the Mayor's Task Force report on civil disorders, calling it a "superficial farce."

Byrd R. Brown, local chairman of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said the report ignores

some of the main factors in Negro unrest.

"It completely ignores police
